Buddhists Riot As Peace March Plan Is Banned

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Riot police backed by paratroopers broke up a series of antigovernment demonstrations in Saigon today after the city's mayor banned a massive Buddhist "march of peace" against Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military regime.

Several persons were injured and a number of Buddhist monks and nuns were arrested as the heavily armed police scattered the demonstrators with tear gas in one of the heaviest downpours of the year.

The paratroops set up positions on streets to the market. Many units were armed with machine guns.

Ky's opponents demonstrated peacefully in three other cities, including the northern Buddhist stronghold of Hue, while government supporters rallied in another.

Although the political crisis kept many government troops out of the field, a government spokesman said Vietnamese soldiers killed 58 Viet Cong in five ground actions Tuesday, including a heavy Communist attack on the central coast that failed to dislodge the outnumbered defenders.

While fighting remained at a low level generally, the U.S. Command disclosed a new sweep operation by the U. S. 173rd Airborne Division and an Australian regiment in the jungles 40 miles southeast of Saigon. So far 20 Viet Cong have been killed in the nine-day operation.

American forces reported killing 29 Viet Cong in two other continuing operations.

U.S. jets flew 24 missions against North Viet Nam, including an attack on the Red River Valley rail line to Red China. The number of missions was again far below the average before the monsoon rains curbed the air war against the North.

The U.S. military command had ordered all Americans off Saigon's streets this afternoon in anticipation of trouble during the scheduled march from the Buddhist Institute, focal point of past disorders.

Some 2,000 Buddhist followers tried to crash through the barbed wire around the institute but were driven off by a police tear gas barrage.

Saigon's Mayor Van Van Cua banned the demonstration and ordered his police to pick up any monks on the streets for identification at city hall. Leaders of the Buddhist Institute agreed to this procedure, saying they had authorized no demonstrations today.

As monsoon rains drenched the capital's streets, helmeted, khaki-clad police broke up crowds of monks, youth groups, students and frolicking youngsters at the central market, the U.S. Joint Public Affairs office and at an American Army billet.

Earlier, riot police scattered 200 students staging a noisy anti-government, anti-American protest outside Saigon University's pharmacy building. Blaming the United States for Ky's suppression of the rebellion in Da Nang Monday, the students waved a placard saying "Wild

Senate Aims Spending Prod At McNamara

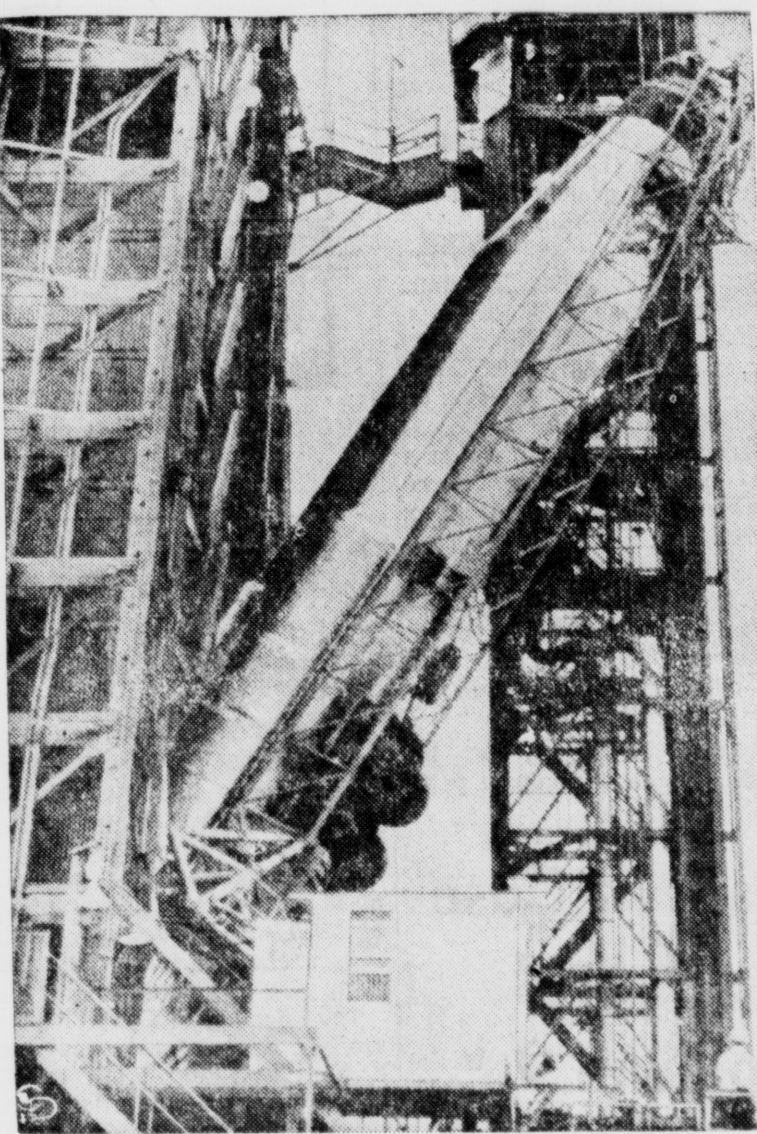

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate takes up today a $975 million military construction bill that includes a provision intended to prod Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to start work on some old projects.

The Senate Armed Services Committee cut $75 million from McNamara's original request for $1.05 billion and tacked on the provision ordering the secretary to give priority to some $620 million in projects approved by Congress last year and then halted by McNamara.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., floor manager for the bill, said a new project could be started ahead of those approved last year if the secretary informs the Senate and House Armed Services committees in writing that the project is urgently needed.

In recent years, Congress often has authorized various projects only to have them canceled by cutbacks or base closings ordered by McNamara. This year's bill includes 636 projects at 262 bases in the United States and overseas.

The $1.6 billion program approved by Congress last year included 1,372 projects at 427 bases.

New Minimum Pay Bill Plagued by Amendments

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House wades into a stack of controversial amendments today as it moves toward expected passage of a bill to raise the federal minimum wage and broaden its coverage.

Supporters face a strenuous task in retaining the bill's full proposed new coverage of 7.2 million workers, including farm workers and employees of hotels, hospitals and restaurants. They should have less difficulty in raising the present $1.25 an hour wage to $1.60, but a major effort is being planned to delay the effective date of the top rate from 1968, as proposed in the bill, to 1970.

During four hours of debate Tuesday there was widespread agreement that wages of the nation's lowest paid workers should be raised — at least to the $3,000-a-year regarded as the level of poverty in other federal programs. A wage of $1.50 would produce an annual income of $3,200.

It was not unanimous. Rep. Glenn Andrews, R-Ala., said the bill would create more poverty by forcing farms and small businesses to shut down because they can't pay higher wages.

There was evidence of bipartisan support for the main out- lines of the measure, however. Rep. Alphonzo Bell, R-Calif., called for its passage intact, and Rep. William H. Ayres, R-Calif., said he wanted only one minor amendment. Both are members of the Education and Labor Committee which wrote the bill.

Booze To Help Sell-Ohio Drive

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes' "Wonderful World of Ohio" campaign is going to get a new kick — Kentucky booze.

The booze, an 86 proof variety turned out by the Jim Beam distillery, will be peddled by state liquor stores starting next month.

Rhodes' Department of Development has designed a decanter shaped like the state of Ohio to hold the Kentucky-made whisky.

The Kentucky distiller proposed a decanter but it did not meet the approval of Rhodes' lieutenants. So they designed their own jug.

fective date of the $1.60 wage to 1970 is to be made by Rep. Thomas G. Morris, D-N.M. The bill provides for an increase to $1.40 next Feb. 1, and a stepup to $1.60 a year later.

Rep. John H. Dent, D-Pa., floor manager of the bill, is counting on the support of President Johnson to help defeat the Morris amendment. Johnson, in a talk to editors of labor publications Monday, endorsed the bill for the first time. He asked Congress for changes in the minimum wage law, but made no specific recommendations.

Other amendments that appear to have wide support would eliminate farm workers from coverage, exempt cannery workers from overtime, limit the size of retail establishments that would be covered, provide lower wages for teen-agers, and drop waiters and other tipped employees from the bill.

Selma Vote Count Ousts Noted Sheriff

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Wilson Baker, former Selma public safety director who urged a moderate approach in police action during last year's voting demonstrations here, apparently has won the Democratic nomination for sheriff of Dallas County.

U.S. District Judge Daniel H. Thomas, in a ruling on a suit brought by the Justice Department—the first under the 1965 Voting Rights Act, held Tuesday that six boxes challenged by incumbent Sheriff James Clark must be counted.

The six-man steering committee of Dallas County Democratic Executive Committee meets late today to tabulate the vote and to prepare for a hearing of Clark's contest of the entire May 3 primary voting in Dallas County.

As sheriff, Clark jailed thousands of Negroes during the demonstrations which led to passage of the Voting Rights Act. He and Baker often differed on how the demonstrations should be controlled.

Dallas County Democratic chairman M. Alston Keith said the committee would accept the Justice Department's tabulation, which would give Baker a majority of nearly 600 votes over Clark and two other opponents. He added that there would be no runoff May 31.

The Coast Guard search was called off at midnight, and a spokesman said it was doubtful that it would be resumed today.

He said it was assumed that Hoare and Johnstone had headed back to shore and might already have landed.

Viet Policy Backer Wins Oregon Poll

Runaway Victory Chalked Against 'Peace' Candidate

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Robert B. Duncan, President Johnson's champion in an Oregon campaign focused on Viet Nam, captured that state's Democratic Senate nomination amid Republican talk of nationwide voter uneasiness about the Asian war.

In Duncan's runaway victory Tuesday over peace candidate Howard Morgan, advocates of the U.S. stance in South Viet Nam could find at least a partial answer to the Republican report.

Duncan, a two-term congressman, and Morgan, a former member of the Federal Power Commission, stood together in domestic matters. They argued only about Viet Nam. Morgan called U.S. involvement there a tragic error; Duncan said it is necessary.

Their clash echoed the debate that has raged in Congress and on campuses across the nation. In Oregon, for the first time, the voters judged the debaters.

With 1,437 of 2,946 Oregon precincts reporting, Duncan had 64 per cent of the votes, Morgan 33 per cent and a third candidate 3 per cent.

Voters rendered their judgments in primary elections in Florida, Oklahoma and Kentucky, too. The most startling decision in the balloting was Miami Mayor Robert King High's rematch triumph over Florida Gov. Haydon Burns.

High's upset climaxed a bitter runoff campaign which produced Burns charges that the short, red-haired mayor was the candidate of a Negro bloc, and a protégé of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.

High said he was campaigning for integrity in government, and accused Burns—who overwhelmed him two years ago — of cronyism, and patronage that cost millions of dollars.

In their major races:

—Republican Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky won renomination without serious opposition. John Young Brown, a college classmate former congressman and Senate rival 20 years ago, easily won the Democratic Senate nomination. —Preston Moore of Oklahoma City, former national American Legion commander blunted the comeback bid of former Gov. Raymond Gary and won the Democratic nomination for governor of Oklahoma. State Sen. Dewey Bartlett of Tulsa won the Republican gubernatorial nomination over John N. Happy Camp.

—Republican Pat J. Patterson outdistanced Don Kirkchick, who had solicited John Birch Society backing, for the nomination to challenge Oklahoma's Democratic Sen. Fred R. Harris in November.

In Oregon, Duncan will face Republican Gov. Mark O. Hatfield in November for the Senate seat now held by retiring Maurice Neuberger.

Rowboat Crew Is Missing

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP)—A Coast Guard search has failed to find any trace of the rowboat "Puffin" and its two man crew.

John Hoare, 29, and David Johnstone, 34, left Virginia Beach Saturday in the 15-foot craft to row the 3,000 miles to England. They hoped to make the trip in 50 days.

On Monday, they were spotted 20 miles off the Virginia coast, about 100 miles behind schedule, and Tuesday a Navy pilot reported he saw Puffin about 12 miles east of Virginia Beach, near the Coast Guard's Chesapeake light station.

The Coast Guard search was called off at midnight, and a spokesman said it was doubtful that it would be resumed today.

He said it was assumed that Hoare and Johnstone had headed back to shore and might already have landed.

U.S. Spaceport Tempo Quickens

Columbus Death Cases Linked

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A rocket scientist and two filling station attendants who had little in common in life were linked in death today by a foreign-made .25 caliber pistol.

Police believe the same weapon killed all three men execution-style with bullets in the brain. The pistol and the slayer remained unknown.

"I feel that it is the same man," said Detective Capt. Tom Sawyer. From ballistics tests, he said, "we feel that it is the same gun." Further tests were being made.

The gun was the only known connection among the three: Loren E. Bollinger, 40, a bachelor researcher in rocket propulsion; Chester Joseph Scowden, 19, a onetime Golden Gloves boxer and high school dropout who worked at a service station near downtown Columbus; and Claude Quesenberry, 41, a construction worker until he took a job at an all-night station in West Jefferson, 10 miles west of Columbus.

Both Scowden and Quesenberry worked early-morning hours at all-night stations. Bollinger, found shot to death Monday, had an office in a small building four blocks from the station where Scowden worked.

The building is three blocks from Ohio's state Capitol, near an old area being cleared for urban renewal. A small bar and grill occupies the first floor.

All three men had been shot in the head at close range. Police found no witnesses to any of the slayings. Only bullets remained as clues.

Scowden and Quesenberry had been robbed. Police said no billfold was found on Bollinger's body and credit cards and his driver's license were missing.

Scowden and Quesenberry were both fathers. Bollinger was known by associates as "a loner," who talked little of his activities.

5 Receive Sentences in Torture Case

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Two defendants in the Sylvia Likens torture slaying drew life sentences in the Indiana Women's Prison Tuesday and three others were sentenced to the Indiana Reformatory for terms of 2 to 21 years.

Mrs. Gertrude Baniszewski, 37, and her daughter, Paula Maie, 18, got life sentences. The mother was convicted of first degree murder and the daughter of second degree murder in the trial, which wound up last Thursday.

The reformatory terms were handed John Stephen Baniszewski, 13, and two neighbor boys, Richard Hobbs, 16, and Coy Hubbard, 15.

The sentences were pronounced by Judge Saul I. Rabb of Marion County Criminal Court.

Sylvia, a 16-year-old girl boarder in the Baniszewski home, died last Oct. 26 after a series of beatings, abuse and branding detailed in the five-week trial which led to the five convictions.

Kidnaped Ohio Girl Is Found Unharmed

MARION, Ohio (AP) — A 5-year-old girl is home unharmed while a man accused of abducting her at knifepoint is in custody after a citywide manhunt.

Police picked up Carl Raymond Miller, 27, Tuesday and said he would be charged with felonious assault for taking Sharon McQuinn away at knifepoint Monday night.

Sharon was found wandering near a drug store about 45 minutes after a man took the screaming child from a group of youngsters playing in an alley near her home.

to work in a new office he was fixing up on the third floor. A partner in a recording studio on the building's second floor saw him at 10 p.m. Another partner in the studio found Bollinger's body in a third-floor storage area the next morning.

The building once housed a radio station. Police tests showed soundproofing prevented the shots from being heard in the bar downstairs.

Accused Slayer Is Captured

Indiana Victim's Body Dismembered

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP)—A dramatic, day-long manhunt in a desolate swampland has ended with the capture of Glenn Stewart, charged with murder in the Mother's Day slaying of an Indiana factory worker.

Wearily and bearded after eluding a massive search party, Stewart, 30, surrendered Tuesday to a state trooper, apparently unaware that the dead man's widow also had been charged with the murder of 35-year-old Larry Schmidt. Stewart said he was innocent.

In a bizarre twist to a sensational case, police in Marion, Ind., jailed Schmidt's widow, Edith, 27, and quoted her as saying that she and Stewart were lovers who had plotted her husband's death 48 hours before he was killed May 8.

The woman had told police Sunday that Stewart killed her husband over a $53 debt, kidnapped her and her two children and took them on a 16-day trip of terror.

It was her first story, told from her parents home in Spartanburg, Tenn., that led Indiana officers to Schmidt's dismembered body, sliced into five pieces in the dirt-floor basement of his Marion home Sunday.

Marion Police Chief Ted Nuli said Stewart apparently let Mrs. Schmidt and the children go on his flight from Marion to his home in Arkadelphia because they were hindering his escape. Nuli quoted her as saying that she and Stewart used a knife to kill her husband, then a hack-saw to cut off his arms and legs.

However, Prosecutor Robert Foust said he did not think Mrs. Schmidt committed the actual stabbing but believed she was a conspirator in what he described as a love triangle murder. She was jailed on a preliminary charge of first-degree murder to await grand jury action.

McCloy Opposes Troop Pullout

WASHINGTON (AP) — John J. McCloy, veteran diplomatic trouble shooter for American president, told senators today the United States shouldn't be talking about slashing its troops in Europe to a token force.

"I do not believe that we should now be talking about maintaining only a token force," McCloy told a Senate subcommittee. "This would only confirm the skeptics in their claims of our unreliability and confound our loyal partners."

Thus McCloy, postwar high commissioner for Germany and former president of the World Bank, joined the debate centering on Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's proposal that the time may be ripe for Western Europe to take over the primary responsibility for its defense.

Newest Lab Put in Orbit

Several Other Shots Awaited

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Explorer 32, America's newest orbital chemical laboratory, bounded into space today to begin mapping uncharted regions of earth's upper atmosphere.

The 492-pound Explorer, the size and shape of a shiny beachball, blasted off at 10 a.m. (EDT) on the tip of a sleek Delta rocket. Its launch sounded the opening gun for one of the busiest seven-day launch schedules in Cape Kennedy history.

Explorer's booster rocket — aimed for an egg-shaped orbit ranging from 170 to 750 miles above the earth.

"We appear to have a normal flight," a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said after the spacecraft achieved orbit.

The $1.5-million satellite, three feet in diameter, was built to beam back data on the concentration and distribution of charged hydrogen, helium, nitrogen and oxygen atoms located in the shiny Explorer's orbital path.

This information is useful in learning how to communicate through outer space.

Explorer also was designed to study short-term disturbances in the upper atmosphere caused by solar storms, which send charged particles streaking from the sun and interrupt short-wave radio communications that use earth's ionosphere as a mirror to reflect signals.

The space agency today also plans to roll the first version of a 36-story Saturn 5 moon rocket to the launch pad. The event occurs on the fifth anniversary of the day President John F. Kennedy set the goal to land U.S. astronauts on the moon by 1970.

The first Saturn 5 will never fly, however. It's job is to check out equipment and help launch crews work out procedures so they are prepared when flight-ready moon rockets begin arriving later this year.

During the next seven days, five rockets are scheduled to carry payloads into space from Cape Kennedy — including the Gemini 9 astronauts and their rendezvous-in-space target satellite on Tuesday.

And a Surveyor craft is on the firing line for a Monday liftoff toward a soft landing on the moon. An Orbiting Geophysical Observatory (OGO) is tentatively scheduled for launching Tuesday night.

Bandit Gets Cash and Gas

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — The bank bandit got his paper bag filled with money Tuesday and unknowingly also got a tear-gas bomb concealed to resemble a stack of $5 bills.

He fled with some $1,500 in cash, but police found the automobile believed used as the getaway car. Tear gas was detected in the car, abandoned in the parking lot.

T.E. Wood, vice president of the bank, said the bomb concealed in the roll of bills was one of "various types of protective devices" the bank has.

The bomb had an automatic device which the teller triggered by giving it a hard squeeze. It was set to go off within five minutes.

The bandit was still at large today.

Governor Romney To Seek Third Term

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Republican Gov. George Romney, frequently mentioned as a possible 1968 presidential contender, announced as expected today his candidacy for a third term.

The term would be four years under a new State Constitution which Romney helped write. Romney's first two terms were for two years each.

Romney has not announced GOP opposition.

Rebel Uganda Palace Grabbed

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — The Ugandan government captured the palace of the rebel king of the Buganda region Tuesday night. But the fate of King Freddie was not known.

The 41-year-old monarch of Uganda's biggest and richest region was variously reported missing, dead, or under arrest. (One report to London said the Ugandan army had set the palace on fire and killed 200 of the king's bodyguards.)

Ugandan President Milton Obote's government said its security troops attacked the brick-walled palace compound at Mengo, on the southwest outskirts of Kampala, after it was learned that arms were being distributed there to mobs. The troops seized the palace after an all-day battle, the government said.

The government did not report casualty figures from the battle but said 8 policemen and 10 civilians were killed when mobs threatened a police station. Two Britons on a surveying project were killed by a mob 50 miles east of Kampala, the government added.

King Freddie is Sir Edward Frederick William Mutesa II, the kabaka of Buganda. He got his nickname as a student, Grenadier Guardsman and political exile in London.

The violence grew out of a long-smoldering power struggle that sharpened last Friday when the king told Obote to take his central government out of Kampala and the Buganda region by May 30.

Girls Talk to Nags, Drive Hansoms

NEW YORK (AP) — Susanna Davy and Toni Rhodes are two of the unlikely members of the Central Park carriage trade that a nag could imagine. They talk to horses.

The attractive young ladies are working as drivers of the hansom cabs that transport sightseers around the park.

While the reins on these rigs are traditionally handled by men, there have been no complaints thus far about the feminine invasion — either from the horses or the men.

Miss Rhodes, 19, a Barnard College freshman, has been driving a four-wheeled Victoria for a little over a week.

She got the job because she has the habit of talking to horses. The last time she stopped to chat the horse's owner happened to be Fred Birkner, her present employer.

"I told Mr. Birkner I love horses and that I used to ride roadster horses in Virginia," she said. She intends to work through the summer after going home to Charlottesville for a visit at the end of the term.

Pink-cheeked Susanna Davy is the veteran of the two, having driven for Birkner about seven months. The 20-year-old English girl grew up on a farm in the north of England and has been driving "all my life."

"I've been with animals and riding horses since I was very small," Susanna said. She wears the traditional black silk topper as she works in her carriage which "used to belong to the Swedish royal family."

The girls receive 50 per cent of what they earn. Fares vary from $5 to $7, depending on the length of the trip.

Senate Aims Spending Prod At McNamara

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate takes up today a $75 million military construction bill that includes a provision intended to prod Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to start work on some old projects.

The booze, an 86 proof variety turned out by the Jim Beam distillery, will be peddled by state liquor stores starting next month.

Rhodes' Department of Development has designed a decanter shaped like the state of Ohio to hold the Kentucky-made whisky.

The Kentucky distiller proposed a decanter but it did not meet the approval of Rhodes' lieutenants. So they designed their own jug.

Effective date of the $1.60 wage to 1970 is to be made by Rep. Thomas G. Morris, D-N.M. The bill provides for an increase to $1.40 next Feb. 1, and a stepup to $1.60 a year later.

Rep. John H. Dent, D-Pa., floor manager of the bill, is counting on the support of President Johnson to help defeat the Morris amendment. Johnson, in a talk to editors of labor publications Monday, endorsed the bill for the first time. He asked Congress for changes in the minimum wage law, but made no specific recommendations.

Other amendments that appear to have wide support would eliminate farm workers from coverage, exempt cannery workers from overtime, limit the size of retail establishments that would be covered, provide lower wages for teen-agers, and drop waiters and other tipped employees from the bill.

Selma Vote Count Ousts Noted Sheriff

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Wilson Baker, former Selma public safety director who urged a moderate approach in police action during last year's voting demonstrations here, apparently has won the Democratic nomination for sheriff of Dallas County.

U.S. District Judge Daniel H. Thomas, in a ruling on a suit brought by the Justice Department—the first under the 1965 Voting Rights Act, held Tuesday that six boxes challenged by incumbent Sheriff James Clark must be counted.

The six-man steering committee of Dallas County Democratic Executive Committee meets late today to tabulate the vote and to prepare for a hearing of Clark's contest of the entire May 3 primary voting in Dallas County.

As sheriff, Clark jailed thousands of Negroes during the demonstrations which led to passage of the Voting Rights Act. He and Baker often differed on how the demonstrations should be controlled.

Dallas County Democratic chairman M. Alston Keith said the committee would accept the Justice Department's tabulation, which would give Baker a majority of nearly 600 votes over Clark and two other opponents. He added that there would be no runoff May 31.

Rowboat Crew Is Missing

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP)—A Coast Guard search has failed to find any trace of the rowboat "Puffin" and its two man crew.

John Hoare, 29, and David Johnstone, 34, left Virginia Beach Saturday in the 15-foot craft to row the 3,000 miles to England. They hoped to make the trip in 50 days.

On Monday, they were spotted 20 miles off the Virginia coast, about 100 miles behind schedule, and Tuesday a Navy pilot reported he saw Puffin about 12 miles east of Virginia Beach, near the Coast Guard's Chesapeake light station.

The Coast Guard search was called off at midnight, and a spokesman said it was doubtful that it would be resumed today. He said it was assumed that Hoare and Johnstone had headed back to shore and might already have landed.

Viet Policy Backer Wins Oregon Poll

Runaway Victory Chalked Against 'Peace' Candidate

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Robert B. Duncan, President Johnson's champion in an Oregon campaign focused on Viet Nam, captured that state's Democratic Senate nomination amid Republican talk of nationwide voter uneasiness about the Asian war.

In Duncan's runaway victory Tuesday over peace candidate Howard Morgan, advocates of the U.S. stance in South Viet Nam could find at least a partial answer to the Republican report.

Duncan, a two-term congressman, and Morgan, a former member of the Federal Power Commission, stood together in domestic matters. They argued only about Viet Nam. Morgan called U.S. involvement there a tragic error; Duncan said it is necessary.

Their clash echoed the debate that has raged in Congress and on campuses across the nation. In Oregon, for the first time, the voters judged the debaters.

With 1,437 of 2,946 Oregon precincts reporting, Duncan had 64 per cent of the votes, Morgan 33 per cent and a third candidate 3 per cent.

Voters rendered their judgments in primary elections in Florida, Oklahoma and Kentucky, too. The most startling decision in the balloting was Miami Mayor Robert King High's rematch triumph over Florida Gov. Haydon Burns.

High's upset climaxed a bitter runoff campaign which produced Burns charges that the short, red-haired mayor was the candidate of a Negro bloc, and a protégé of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.

High said he was campaigning for integrity in government, and accused Burns—who overwhelmed him two years ago — of cronyism, and patronage that cost millions of dollars.

In their major races:

—Republican Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky won renomination without serious opposition. John Young Brown, a college classmate former congressman and Senate rival 20 years ago, easily won the Democratic Senate nomination.

—Preston Moore of Oklahoma City, former national American Legion commander blunted the comeback bid of former Gov. Raymond Gary and won the Democratic nomination for governor of Oklahoma. State Sen. Dewey Bartlett of Tulsa won the Republican gubernatorial nomination over John N. Happy Camp.

—Republican Pat J. Patterson outdistanced Don Kirkaid, who had solicited John Birch Society backing, for the nomination to challenge Oklahoma's Democratic Sen. Fred R. Harris in November.

In Oregon, Duncan will face Republican Gov. Mark O. Hatfield in November for the Senate seat now held by retiring Maurine Neuberger.

Columbus Death Cases Linked

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A rocket scientist and two filling station attendants who had little in common in life were linked in death today by a foreign-made .25 caliber pistol.

Police believe the same weapon killed all three men execution-style with bullets in the brain. The pistol and the slayer remained unknown.

"I feel that it is the same man," said Detective Capt. Tom Sawyer. From ballistics tests, he said, "we feel that it is the same gun." Further tests were being made.

The gun was the only known connection among the three. Loren E. Bollinger, 40, a bachelor researcher in rocket propulsion; Chester Joseph Scowden, 19, a onetime Golden Gloves boxer and high school dropout who worked at a service station near downtown Columbus; and Claude Quesenberry, 41, a construction worker until he took a job at an all-night station in West Jefferson, 10 miles west of Columbus.

Both Scowden and Quesenberry worked early-morning hours at all-night stations.

Bollinger, found shot to death Monday, had an office in a small building four blocks from the station where Scowden worked.

The building is three blocks from Ohio's state Capitol, near an old area being cleared for urban renewal. A small bar and grill occupies the first floor.

All three men had been shot in the head at close range.

Police found no witnesses to any of the slayings. Only bullets remained as clues.

Scowden and Quesenberry had been robbed. Police said no billfold was found on Bollinger's body and credit cards and his driver's license were missing.

Scowden and Quesenberry were both fathers. Bollinger was known by associates as "a loner," who talked little of his activities.

Accused Slayer Is Captured

Indiana Victim's Body Dismembered

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP)—A dramatic, day-long manhunt in a desolate swampland has ended with the capture of Glenn Stewart, charged with murder in the Mother's Day slaying of an Indiana factory worker.

Weary and bearded after eluding a massive search party, Stewart, 30, surrendered Tuesday to a state trooper, apparently unaware that the dead man's widow also had been charged with the murder of 35-year-old Larry Schmidt. Stewart said he was innocent.

In a bizarre twist to a sensational case, police in Marion, Ind., jailed Schmidt's widow, Edith, 27, and quoted her as saying that she and Stewart were lovers who had plotted her husband's death 48 hours before he was killed May 8.

The woman had told police Sunday that Stewart killed her husband over a $50 debt, kidnapped her and her two children and took them on a 16-day trip of terror.

It was her first story, told from her parents home in Sparta, Tenn., that led Indiana officers to Schmidt's dismembered body, sliced into five pieces in the dirt-floor basement of his Marion home Sunday.

Marion Police Chief Ted Nuli said Stewart apparently let Mrs. Schmidt and the children go on his flight from Marion to his home in Arkadelphia because they were hindering his escape. Nuli quoted her as saying that she and Stewart used a knife to kill her husband, then a hack-saw to cut off his arms and legs.

However, Prosecutor Robert Foust said he did not think Mrs. Schmidt committed the actual stabbing but believed she was a conspirator in what he described as a love triangle murder. She was jailed on a preliminary charge of first-degree murder to await grand jury action.

5 Receive Sentences in Torture Case

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Two defendants in the Sylvia Likens torture slaying drew life sentences in the Indiana Women's Prison Tuesday and three others were sentenced to the Indiana Reformatory for terms of 2 to 21 years.

Mrs. Gertrude Baniszewski, 37, and her daughter, Paula Marie, 18, got life sentences. The mother was convicted of first degree murder and the daughter of second degree murder in the trial, which wound up last Thursday.

The reformatory terms were handed John Stephen Baniszewski, 13, and two neighbor boys, Richard Hobbs, 16, and Coy Hubbard, 15.

The sentences were pronounced by Judge Saul I. Rabb of Marion County Criminal Court.

Sylvia, a 16-year-old girl boarder in the Baniszewski home, died last Oct. 26 after a series of beatings, abuse and branding detailed in the five-week trial which led to the five convictions.

Kidnaped Ohio Girl Is Found Unharmed

MARION, Ohio (AP) — A 5-year-old girl is home unharmed while a man accused of abducting her at knifepoint is in custody after a citywide manhunt.

Police picked up Carl Raymond Miller, 27, Tuesday and said he would be charged with felonious assault for taking Sharon McQuiston away at knifepoint Monday night.

Sharon was found wandering near a drug store about 45 minutes after a man took the screaming child from a group of youngsters playing in an alley near her home.

Newest Lab Put in Orbit

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Explorer 32, America's newest orbiting chemical laboratory, bounded into space today to begin mapping uncharted regions of earth's upper atmosphere.

The 492-pound Explorer, the size and shape of a shiny beachball, blasted off at 10 a.m. (EDT) on the tip of a sleek Delta rocket. Its launch sounded the opening gun for one of the busiest seven-day launch schedules in Cape Kennedy history.

Explorer's booster rocket — aimed for an egg-shaped orbit ranging from 170 to 750 miles above the earth.

"We appear to have a normal flight," a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said after the spacecraft achieved orbit.

The $1.5-million satellite, three feet in diameter, was built to beam back data on the concentration and distribution of charged hydrogen, helium, nitrogen and oxygen atoms located in the shiny Explorer's orbital path.

This information is useful in learning how to communicate through outer space.

Explorer also was designed to study short-term disturbances in the upper atmosphere caused by solar storms, which send charged particles streaking from the sun and interrupt short-wave radio communications that use earth's ionosphere as a mirror to reflect signals.

The space agency today also plans to roll the first version of a 36-story Saturn 5 moon rocket to the launch pad. The event occurs on the fifth anniversary of the day President John F. Kennedy set the goal to land U.S. astronauts on the moon by 1970.

The first Saturn 5 will never fly, however. It's job is to check out equipment and help launch crews work out procedures so they are prepared when flight-ready moon rockets begin arriving later this year.

During the next seven days, five rockets are scheduled to carry payloads into space from Cape Kennedy — including the Gemini 9 astronauts and their rendezvous-in-space target satellite on Tuesday.

And a Surveyor craft is on the firing line for a Monday liftoff toward a soft landing on the moon. An Orbiting Geophysical Observatory (OGO) is tentatively scheduled for launching Tuesday night.

Bandit Gets Cash and Gas

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — The bank bandit got his paper bag filled with money Tuesday and unknowingly also got a tear-gas bomb concealed to resemble a stack of $5 bills.

He fled with some $1,500 in cash, but police found the automobile believed used as the getaway car. Tear gas was detected in the car, abandoned in the parking lot.

T.E. Wood, vice president of the bank, said the bomb concealed in the roll of bills was one of "various types of protective devices" the bank has.

The bomb had an automatic device which the teller triggered by giving it a hard squeeze. It was set to go off within five minutes.

The bandit was still at large today.

Governor Romney To Seek Third Term

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Republican Gov. George Romney frequently mentioned as a possible 1968 presidential contender, announced as expected today his candidacy for a third term.

The term would be four years under a new State Constitution which Romney helped write. Romney's first two terms were for two years each.

Romney has not announced GOP opposition.

Child Saves Marines

SAIGON (AP) — A Vietnamese child probably saved the lives of a Marine patrol as it approached a village near Da Nang today. The child told the patrol the entrance gate to the village was booby-trapped.

McCloy Opposes Troop Pullout

WASHINGTON (AP) — John J. McCloy, veteran diplomatic trouble shooter for American president, told senators today the United States shouldn't be talking about slashing its troops in Europe to a token force.

"I do not believe that we should now be talking about a main-aiming only a token force," McCloy told a Senate subcommittee. "This would only confirm the skeptics in their claims of our unreliability and confound our loyal partners."

Thus McCloy, postwar high commissioner for Germany and former president of the World Bank, joined the debate centering on Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's proposal that the time may be ripe for Western Europe to take over the primary responsibility for its defense.

State Educational Aide Helps Migrant Children

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — For the first time, children of Spanish speaking migrant workers who flock to Ohio each year have a full-time state appointed supervisor to see to their education needs.

He is C. Robert Wood, 25, who took over the job in March—too late, he believes, to be a strong influence this year. The 20,000 migrant workers already are moving into the states agricultural northwest counties.

Each year they bring more than 5,000 school age children, about 2,100 of them will enroll in 28 migrant education centers set up mainly in the rural communities where crop pickers work.

Because the migrants are on the move up to nine months each year, their children usually go to school in their own state only about three months a year. As a result, Ohio educators find the children are behind one to seven years in classroom work although their average intelligence is not in question.

Children of migrant workers begin enrolling in northwestern Ohio schools in late April and early June. They return to Ohio in July and stay through September to harvest pickles and tomatoes.

Wood's goal is some sort of coordinated summer educational program among states using migrant workers.

Each serviceman was presented a packet containing writing materials, post cards, stamps and a pen as a token of good wishes from the American Red Cross. They were urged to write their relatives at home.

The doughnuts were provided by Lindsey Bakery.

Ohio Farm Crops Top $1 Billion

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Value of agricultural products sold by Ohio farmers in 1964 climbed above the $1 billion mark for the first time since agricultural censuses were taken, according to a report just filed by the Bureau of the Census.

The report said that in addition, members of farm operator households in Ohio received another $463 million in off-farm income. The total included $344 million in wages and salaries; $42 million from non-farm business or professional practice; $33 million from Social Security, pensions, and veterans and welfare payments; and $43 million from rent, interest and dividends.

The report said of the entire Ohio land area of 26,222,080 acres, 67.2 per cent was farmed in 1964, a decline from the 70.6 per cent farmed in 1959.

The number of farms also declined, but the average value per acre increased. The 120,381 farms existing in 1964 were worth an average of $304.04 an acre, compared to 1959 when 140,353 farms showed an average value of $245.15 an acre.

Value of all crops sold in 1964 was $427.8 million but, the report said, this was topped by the $583.5 million sales of livestock and livestock products.

The crop value was $96.6 million higher than in 1959, while livestock sales increased by $51.9 million over the 1959 total.

Williamsport Area Man Injured in Oil Fume Blast

Charles F. Lightle, 56, Williamsport, was injured yesterday in an explosion at a Texas Eastern pumping station near Five Points, Pickaway County. Sheriff Dwight Radcliff reported today.

The explosion was believed triggered when an electric switch failed to close, creating an arc which ignited oil fumes present at the station.

Sheriff Radcliff reported Lightle was admitted to Mt. Carmel Hospital in Columbus after receiving emergency care at Berger Hospital.

Lightle suffered a brain concussion and multiple lacerations of the face, according to information obtained by the sheriff's department.

Garage Heavily Damaged by Fire

Circleville Firemen were called Tuesday afternoon to 471 Half Ave., where a garage owned by Howard Weaver was heavily damaged by flames.

Damage to the 25 by 20 foot building was estimated at $800 by firemen. The contents destroyed by flames were valued at $500.

The fire apparently started by spontaneous combustion in a pile of oily rags in the building.

A fireman was dispatched to 501 E. Franklin St. at 10:15 a. m. today to investigate a reported short circuit in an iron.

Assault Case Continued To June 9

A Circleville Municipal Court preliminary hearing involving three local men charged for assault with a deadly weapon has been continued until June 9.

Defendants in the hearing are George Keaton, Cary Blevins and John Fyffe. Charges have been filed by Harley Elder Jr. of Chillicothe.

The prosecution presented its case Tuesday afternoon in a lengthy 4½-hour session. Six witnesses were heard.

The defense, represented by attorney Harry Margulis of Ashville, has indicated it will call several witnesses when the hearing reconvenes.

A HEARING involving disorderly conduct and assault and battery charges against Fyffe, Blevins and Keaton is scheduled to get under way at 9:30 a. m. Thursday.

The three men were accused following a fight May 15 at Hanley's Bar. Local authorities said two persons were injured.

Six Treated For Injuries

The emergency list at Berger Hospital today included six persons treated for various injuries. All were released.

Evelyn Conrad, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Conrad of 1313 South St., was treated after being struck on the forehead with a rock.

Douglas Blevins Jr., 5, of 434 Watt St., fell at a local laundromat and injured his chin.

Nancy Guenther, 9, Northridge Road, was treated after she was bumped on the shoulder by a door at Nicholas Drive School.

Mrs. Flora Lutz, 45, of 152 Logan St., cut a finger of her left hand on a razor blade.

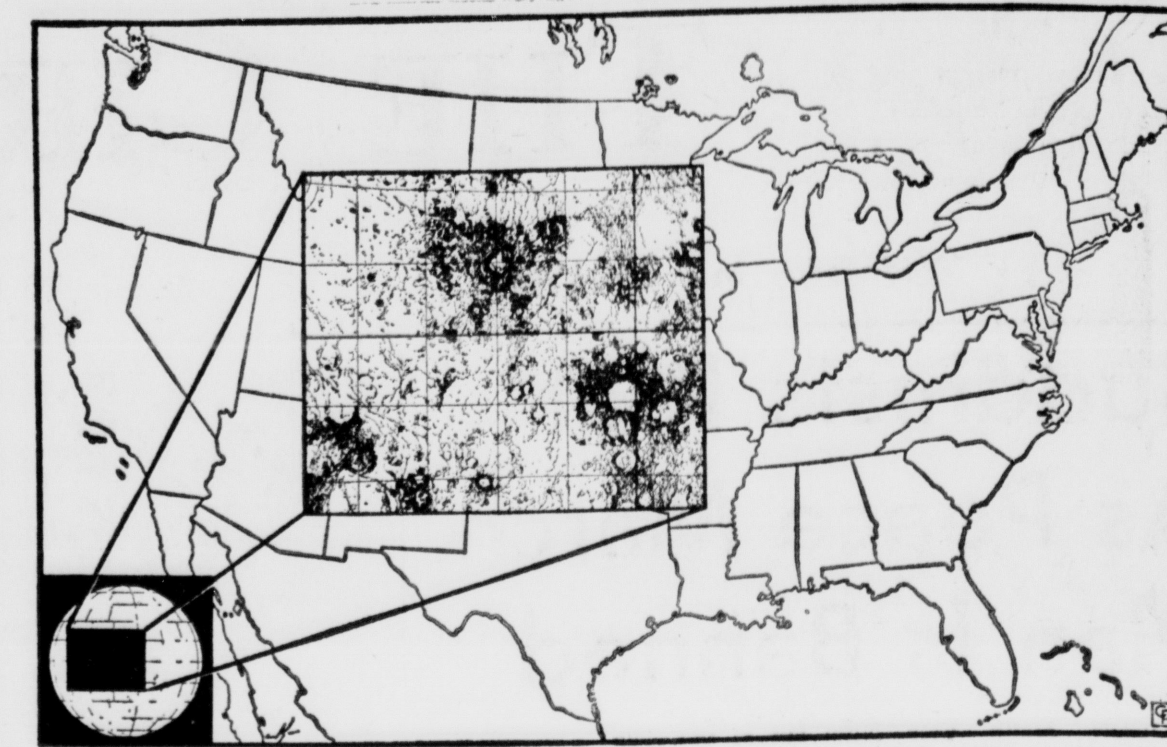

Melvin Reed, 31, Route 3, Mt. Sterling, injured his right leg when he stepped off a tractor.

Stocks Dip, Then Climb

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market weathered a slow decline today and began to recover from it early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .3 at 323.9 with industrials off .3, rails unchanged and utilities off .3.

The decline followed three straight days of advance and brokers said that profit taking by traders was in order. The list gave ground stubbornly, however, and as prices refused to stage a hasty retreat more buyers came into the market.

Several of the airlines, electronics, aerospace issues and nonferrous metals covered minus into plus signs.

The mood of the market, though cautious, was not nervous as it had been on some of the hectic sessions of recent weeks.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .27 at 888.14, having recovered from a loss of 3.06.

Unhappy Boy Found with Horse

WAYNESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—While dozens of people searched for him in the woods and fields of northern Warren County, 11-year-old Ronnie Hoskins huddled in a hayloft near his favorite horse.

The search for Ronnie started soon after he walked away from Waynesville School on Monday, despondent over being disqualified in a saddle show the day before.

The search ended 33 hours later when Otis Bargo's son heard a noise in the hayloft of his father's farm, two miles from the home of Ronnie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hilary Hoskins.

Hoskins sold his son's old horse, Misty, to Bargo several weeks ago. A county juvenile officer said Ronnie told him he did not care for his new horse.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Directors of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway and the affiliated Baltimore and Ohio Railroad elected Gregory S. DeVine chief executive officer of the two lines Tuesday to succeed the late Walter J. Tuohy.

Tuohy died May 12 several hours after C & O stockholders approved a merger with the Norfolk & Western Railroad. He suffered a heart attack.

ST. MARYS, Ohio (AP) — James David Luma, 2, died Tuesday in Joint Township Memorial Hospital a few hours after he swallowed four pills.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Luma of Wapakoneta, had climbed onto a shelf of a cupboard in his home to reach a hiding place for the pills, relatives said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Army private whose mother lives at Rt. 2, Belle Center, Logan County, Ohio, is among latest Viet Nam casualties reported by the Defense Department. Killed in recent fighting was Michael L. King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Laura May King.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — County commissioners cannot legally appropriate money to prepare official plans for a community college, Atty. Gen. Tilliam B. Saxbe ruled today.

In the absence of any law authorizing commissioners to make appropriations for community colleges, Saxbe said, "such appropriation would not be legal."

His opinion went to Prosecutor J. Warren Bettis in Columbiana County, where a community college had been proposed. The Ohio Board of Regents last Friday rejected a charter for the proposed Columbiana Community College.

MARIETTA, Ga. (AP) — Gas stations for helicopters in Viet Nam are going to be in the skies before long, Lockheed-Georgia Co. announced today.

The sky stations will be a modified version of the HC130H Lockheed Hercules, the first production aircraft to be equipped for air-to-air refueling of helicopters, Lockheed said.

Delivery of the first modified Hercules is scheduled in July. Lockheed said airborne refueling of helicopters would extend their range from about 700

ALPENA, Mich. (AP) — Mayor Walter Weinkauff was drawing a name from 3,000 entries in a contest Tuesday when a photographer looked up from his camera and said:

"See that you pull out a poor family with eight or nine kids."

Weinkauff drew the name of Mare Deno.

Mrs. Deno not only is the mother of nine, but she is the wife of the man with the camera, Eugene (Skeets) Deo, general news editor of The Alpena News.

The prize: a free, five-minute shopping spree by the family a supermarket.

Ohio Farm Crops Top $1 Billion

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Value of agricultural products sold by Ohio farmers in 1964 climbed above the $1 billion mark for the first time since agricultural censuses were taken, according to a report just filed by the Bureau of the Census.

The report said that in addition, members of farm operator households in Ohio received another $463 million in off-farm income. The total included $344 million in wages and salaries; $42 million from non-farm business or professional practice; $33 million from Social Security, pensions, and veterans and welfare payments; and $43 million from rent, interest and dividends.

The report said of the entire Ohio land area of 26,222,080 acres, 67.2 per cent was farmed in 1964, a decline from the 70.6 per cent farmed in 1959.

The number of farms also declined, but the average value per acre increased. The 120,351 farms existing in 1964 were worth an average of $304.04 an acre, compared to 1959 when 140,353 farms showed an average value of $245.15 an acre.

Value of all crops sold in 1964 was $427.8 million but, the report said, this was topped by the $583.5 million sales of livestock and livestock products.

The crop value was $96.6 million higher than in 1959, while livestock sales increased by $51.9 million over the 1959 total.

Motorist Seeks $5,100 in Suit
Sibyl Lawson, New Boston, has filed suit in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court seeking $5,100 damages for alleged injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

Named defendants by the suit were Levi DeRosario of Columbus and the Aetna Casualty and Surety Co.

The accident occurred May 24, 1964. The petition states that DeRosario's vehicle moved out of the Circleville-Tarleton Road onto Route 23, striking Mrs. Lawson's car in the side. The auto was then forced into a ditch by the impact.

Mrs. Lawson alleges she sustained an injury to the cervical area of the spine and has limited use of her right shoulder and arm as a result.

State Educational Aide Helps Migrant Children
FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — For the first time, children of Spanish speaking migrant workers who flock to Ohio each year have a full-time state appointed supervisor to see to their education needs.

He is C. Robert Wood, 25, who took over the job in March—too late, he believes, to be a strong influence this year. The 20,000 migrant workers already are moving into the states agricultural northwest counties.

Each year they bring more than 5,000 school age children, about 2,100 of them will enroll in 28 migrant education centers set up mainly in the rural communities where crop pickers work.

Because the migrants are on the move up to nine months each year, their children usually go to school in their own state only about three months a year. As a result, Ohio educators find the children are behind one to seven years in classroom work although their average intelligence is not in question.

Children of migrant workers begin enrolling in northwestern Ohio schools in late April and early June. They return to Ohio in July and stay through September to harvest pickles and tomatoes.

Wood's goal is some sort of coordinated summer educational program among states using migrant workers.

State Educational Aide Helps Migrant Children

"If each state takes responsibility for education two or three months each year," he said, "the migrant workers' children could catch up."

Wood is equipped only with a $96,000 budget in state and federal funds and a makeshift basement office in a house that is used for office space by the Hancock County Board of Education in Findlay. He has no staff.

"Money is the major problem now," said Wood, who was principal of Richfield elementary School in Henry County for three years before taking his present assignment.

Besides the northwest counties, Ashtabula, Portage and Stark counties also draw large numbers of migrants. Wood covers these areas from his Findlay headquarters.

The summer schools for migrants are staffed by teachers of the districts in which the schools are located. They are paid at their usual scale.

State educators said 70 per cent or more of the migrant children make satisfactory progress in summer classes.

The program Wood supervises has been under way in Ohio several years, steadily growing, but had only a part-time overseer previously.

Presbyterians Name Lawyer As Chieftain
BOSTON (AP) — A Kansas attorney, William P. Thompson of Wichita, today was elected chief executive of the United Presbyterian Church of the U.S.A.

He is the first new occupant of the office in 15 years.

He succeeds the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, whose service in the post has brought him into international church prominence.

Thompson, 49, is the first layman to hold the highest administrative office in the Church since 1883. The title, technically, is stated clerk.

He was elected by the Church's governing General Assembly.

Among 819 voting delegates, Thompson polled 502 ballots to 302 for the Rev. Dr. John W. Meister of Fort Wayne, Ind., and 15 for the Rev. Dr. Hugh Miller of Dover, N. J. A total of 410 was required.

Thompson served during the past year as moderator of the Church, its top honorary position.

NEW YORK (AP)—The official forecasters for Congress have a much rosier view of the economy's future than do many stock traders.

The congressional staff sees business booming and personal income soaring even more than the Johnson administration predicts. And the staff ignores the recession signs that some in Wall Street say they've sighted.

Rather, the professional staff of the joint House-Senate Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation puts more faith in the combined forces of the long economic expansion's momentum and a continuing rise in prices.

The three guesses—those of the administration, of the congressional forecasting staff, and the Wall Street bears—may be only that, guesses.

But for the taxpayer, whether an individual or a corporation, the important thing about the disagreement of the administration budget makers and the congressional predictors lies in the likely result that Congress will be even less inclined to raise taxes this year.

According to the joint committee's staff, the Treasury might even end up fiscal 1967 with its first surplus since fiscal 1960. Since Treasury surpluses are regarded as deflationary, the argument will be that a further brake on the economy through a tax hike would be unnecessary. The staff further predicts that when the books for fiscal 1966 are balanced June 30, the deficit will be much less than the administration now is predicting.

All of these rosy predictions are based, not on any expectation that government spending will be cut or even held steady, but on the view that the economy is so strong and growing so steadily that tax revenues will soar, even at the present rates.

Part of the staff's forecast is based on rising incomes sending more taxpayers into higher brackets. And part is based on the belief that price and wage increases will carry the dollar figures for the economy higher than the administration is yet willing to concede.

But the predictions flatly reject the qualms that have been shaking the stock market. The congressional soothsayers see the economy overcoming any current hesitations. And, of course, the stock market's jitters have been due in large part to recurrent fears of higher taxes. This the staff report seemingly would dismiss as unwarranted.

WALL STREET will never produce a character who gathers wider publicity, or evokes more laughter, than Max Donovan—salaried executive, payer of federal income taxes, and member in good standing of the Book-of-the-Month Club. Max Donovan is a schneider. What legalistic shenanigans his owner was up to have not yet been cleared up, because just as the law was closing in, Maxie boy vanished. When last seen he was poking his head out of a car window, barking angrily at a Siamese cat on the sidewalk.

Famed newspaper editor Herbert Bayard Swope prided himself on his incredible fund of worthless information and, furthermore, could never understand why his friends found occasional lectures by him just a wee bit long-winded. To a gathering of handkerchief manufacturers hoping just for a pleasant get-together, Mr. Swope scolded, "I'll bet not one of you fellows are aware that the finest Belgian linen you import is achieved by patient women beating the cloth for hours on end on the shore of the Ypres River—the Belgian side of the river, of course." He added hastily, "And if you ever advertise wool sheared from llamas, I urge you to let the public in on the fact that llamas, when angry, spit on the objects of their ire."

By this time, notes Swope's biographer, E. J. Kahn, Jr., there wasn't a dry throat in the place.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

What is the immediate home treatment for a painful bruise? Immediate cold applications control the swelling and reduce the pain. Cold packs also lessen the accumulation of blood circulation and help to speed the tissue's return to normal.

Is there any new or even old remedy for canker sores of the mouth?

There are few conditions that have so successfully evaded the pressure of research. And there are few more annoying conditions, fortunately not dangerous, than canker sores.

These painful blisters appear almost without reason and then form an ulcer of the lining of the mouth and lips.

It is believed that a virus is responsible for these painful sores. Overindulgence in food and drink, poor resistance, malnutrition, deficient vitamins and psychological stress have been accused as the culprits. A good guess, but unproven.

Some new tablets, Bacid, Lactinex, and Flagyl have been used with some success for the relief and early cure of cankers.

Since these drugs are safe, they can be tried after consultation with your own physician.

Is there any operation for the

Back in the days before he had admitted to the world that all along he had been a Marxist-Leninist, Cuba's Fidel Castro had a talk with Egypt's Nasser. What, so Fidel asked the leader of the Arab world, should be done to put Cuba back on its feet economically? Nasser's answer was a reflection of Egyptian policy: play it cool, maintain an official neutrality, and be ready to accept aid from both the Communist and capitalist worlds.

Castro, as history subsequently revealed, was unable to take Nasser's advice because of his pre - commitment to Marxist revolutionary theory. If Fidel had played it cool, the U. S. would certainly have outbid the Russians in the market for Cuban "non - alignment." We are that sort of nation.

On the twenty - sixth of May, which is Thursday of this week, British Guiana, which was once threatened with a Castroite takeover by the left - wing Dr. Cheddi Jagan, will become the new independent nation of Guyana. Fortunately for the whole western hemisphere, Dr. Jagan will view the independence ceremonies from the official doghouse. He is now a minority politician, and has even been deserted by some of his following among the East Indians in Guyana. The Premier of Guyana, Forbes Burnham, leader of the African ethnic element, is apparently firmly in the saddle, supported by the "swing" party of the third generation Portuguese, Peter D'Aguiar, who is his Finance Minister.

It is not recorded that Forbes Burnham has asked Nasser's advice about how to finance a new nation. But he served notice the other day that, unlike Fidel Castro, he intends to follow the Nasser formula of playing both ends against the middle. He said he would take economic aid from "anyone whose aims are not in conflict with the future of Guyana." And he added that "anyone means anyone," whether it be Mother Britain, the United States, Soviet Russia or Red China.

This sounds a bit ominous. But, translated from diplomatic wigwag talk into plain speech it probably means that Forbes Burnham is asking for more aid from the U.S., Britain, and the United Nations than he is receiving. Certainly he isn't going to have much untied help from the Communists.

There have been rumors that Forbes Burnham might make a coalition deal after Independence Day with the Marxist Dr. Jagan. But nothing in the Forbes Burnham past sustains this idea.

It wasn't so long ago that Forbes Burnham, in company with Peter D'Aguiar, was busy elaborating a "books versus bombs" program to put British Guiana on the road toward development by encouraging local free enterprise. He appealed to the Lincoln Educational Foundation of New York City for books about the development of the North American continent under the free - swinging conditions of capitalist competition. Taking the advice contained in the books, Forbes Burnham has welcomed foreign capital; Reynolds Metals, for instance, handed him a check for some $250,000 not so long ago as a down payment for mineral rights in Guyana. The country is rich in bauxite, the source of aluminum, and it has gold deposits.

Moreover, there is an agricultural frontier to be exploited; fifteen miles outside of the capital of Georgetown there is plenty of land available for new farms. The country now imports rice and orange juice, which is a silly waste of good foreign exchange. Both rice and citrus fruits grow well in Guyana.

Despite its poverty, things are auspicious for the new nation provided it can end the terrorism that the local Communists seek to keep alive. The racial conflicts between the East Indian and the African elements of the population would never have come to much if they had not been artificially fomented by Dr. Jagan's Marxist cadres. At one time the terrorists burned a good part of the metropolis of Georgetown, even chopping the firehoses to help the conflagration along. This sort of thing has died down a bit, for Forbes Burnham has taken the precaution to jail a few score of the Marxist cutthroats. But if the country can't solve its economic problems, the cut - throats who are still out of jail will multiply. This is the reason Forbes Burnham is asking economic aid from "anyone," with an appraising eye cocked on a U.S. which has always to worry about the southern approaches to the Panama Canal.

Famed newspaper editor Herbert Bayard Swope prided himself on his incredible fund of worthless information and, furthermore, could never understand why his friends found occasional lectures by him just a wee bit long-winded. To a gathering of handkerchief manufacturers hoping just for a pleasant get-together, Mr. Swope scolded, "I'll bet not one of you fellows are aware that the finest Belgian linen you import is achieved by patient women beating the cloth for hours on end on the shore of the Ypres River—the Belgian side of the river, of course." He added hastily, "And if you ever advertise wool sheared from llamas, I urge you to let the public in on the fact that llamas, when angry, spit on the objects of their ire."

By this time, notes Swope's biographer, E. J. Kahn, Jr., there wasn't a dry throat in the place.

What is the immediate home treatment for a painful bruise? Immediate cold applications control the swelling and reduce the pain. Cold packs also lessen the accumulation of blood circulation and help to speed the tissue's return to normal.

Is there any new or even old remedy for canker sores of the mouth?

There are few conditions that have so successfully evaded the pressure of research. And there are few more annoying conditions, fortunately not dangerous, than canker sores.

These painful blisters appear almost without reason and then form an ulcer of the lining of the mouth and lips.

It is believed that a virus is responsible for these painful sores. Overindulgence in food and drink, poor resistance, malnutrition, deficient vitamins and psychological stress have been accused as the culprits. A good guess, but unproven.

Some new tablets, Bacid, Lactinex, and Flagyl have been used with some success for the relief and early cure of cankers.

Since these drugs are safe, they can be tried after consultation with your own physician.

Back in the days before he had admitted to the world that all along he had been a Marxist-Leninist, Cuba's Fidel Castro had a talk with Egypt's Nasser. What, so Fidel asked the leader of the Arab world, should be done to put Cuba back on its feet economically? Nasser's answer was a reflection of Egyptian policy: play it cool, maintain an official neutrality, and be ready to accept aid from both the Communist and capitalist worlds.

Castro, as history subsequently revealed, was unable to take Nasser's advice because of his pre-commitment to Marxist revolutionary theory. If Fidel had played it cool, the U. S. would certainly have outbid the Russians in the market for Cuban "non-alignment." We are that sort of nation.

On the twenty-sixth of May, which is Thursday of this week, British Guiana, which was once threatened with a Castro takeover by the left-wing Dr. Cheddi Jagan, will become the new independent nation of Guyana. Fortunately for the whole western hemisphere, Dr. Jagan will view the independence ceremonies from the official doghouse. He is now a minority politician, and has even been deserted by some of his following among the East Indians in Guyana. The Premier of Guyana, Forbes Burnham, leader of the African ethnic element, is apparently firmly in the saddle, supported by the "swing" party of the third generation Portuguese, Peter D'Aguilar, who is his Finance Minister.

It is not recorded that Forbes Burnham has asked Nasser's advice about how to finance a new nation. But he served notice the other day that, unlike Fidel Castro, he intends to follow the Nasser formula of playing both ends against the middle. He said he would take economic aid from "anyone whose aims are not in conflict with the future of Guyana." And he added that "anyone means anyone," whether it be Mother Britain, the United States, Soviet Russia or Red China.

This sounds a bit ominous. But, translated from diplomatic wigwag talk into plain speech it probably means that Forbes Burnham is asking for more aid from the U.S., Britain, and the United Nations than he is receiving. Certainly he isn't going to have much untied help from the Communists.

There have been rumors that Forbes Burnham might make a coalition deal after Independence Day with the Marxist Dr. Jagan. But nothing in the Forbes Burnham past sustains this idea.

It wasn't so long ago that Forbes Burnham, in company with Peter D'Aguilar, was busy elaborating a "books versus bombs" program to put British Guiana on the road toward development by encouraging local free enterprise. He appealed to the Lincoln Educational Foundation of New York City for books about the development of the North American continent under the free-swinging conditions of capitalist competition. Taking the advice contained in the books, Forbes Burnham has welcomed foreign capital; Reynolds Metals, for instance, handed him a check for some $250,000 not so long ago as a down payment for mineral rights in Guyana. The country is rich in bauxite, the source of aluminum, and it has gold deposits.

Moreover, there is an agricultural frontier to be exploited; fifteen miles outside of the capital of Georgetown there is plenty of land available for new farms. The country now imports rice and orange juice, which is a silly waste of good foreign exchange. Both rice and citrus fruits grow well in Guyana.

Despite its poverty, things are auspicious for the new nation provided it can end the terrorism that the local Communists seek to keep alive. The racial conflicts between the East Indian and the African elements of the population would never have come to much if they had not been artificially fomented by Dr. Jagan's Marxist cadres. At one time the terrorists burned a good part of the metropolis of Georgetown, even chopping the firehoses to help the conflagration along. This sort of thing has died down a bit, for Forbes Burnham has taken the precaution to jail a few score of the Marxist cut-throats. But if the country can't solve its economic problems, the cut-throats who are still out of jail will multiply. This is the reason Forbes Burnham is asking economic aid from "anyone," with an appraising eye cocked on a U.S. which has always to worry about the southern approaches to the Panama Canal.

High Court Gets Memo on Eavesdropping

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has sent an unprecedented memorandum to the Supreme Court admitting that Federal Bureau of Investigation agents secretly eavesdropped on conversations between a lawyer and his client — a former associate of Bobby Baker.

The client, Washington public relations man Fred B. Black Jr., later was convicted of income tax evasion. But in the memorandum, Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall said Black should be given a court hearing.

Marshall's memorandum to the high court, sent Tuesday, indicated that the FBI apparently acted on its own when it "installed a listening device" in Black's hotel suite in Washington three years ago.

The memorandum said that neither the Justice Department attorneys who prosecuted Black nor "any other attorney of the Department of Justice" — including Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach — knew about the electronic snooping.

Black now is fighting his 1964 tax conviction and has asked the Supreme Court for the second time to review his conviction. The court denied Black's first request for review May 2.

He and Baker, former Senate Democratic secretary who has been indicted on a number of federal charges, were associated in a Washington vending machine business.

In his memorandum, Marshall said the bugging, which took place between February and April 1963, "was unrelated to the tax evasion case."

But he added: "The listening device was in operation from approximately two months before until approximately one month after the evidence was presented to the grand jury and the indictment was returned."

"During that time the monitoring agents overheard, among other conversations, exchanges between petitioner and the attorney who was then representing him in connection with the tax evasion charges on which he has been convicted."

Marshall said although the Justice Department is convinced "the monitoring for conversations had no effect upon his conviction or the fairness of his trial, we have no doubt that in the circumstances (Black) is entitled to a judicial determination."

Marshall emphasized the entire case against Black was based on investigation by the IRS and not the FBI, but added that Black should be allowed to raise the question in U.S. District Court whether any other conversations overheard by the agents "furnished any leads or evidence in his case."

Possibly indicating FBI practice in reporting to its parent Justice Department, Marshall said while the justice prosecutor had access to FBI reports summarizing the bugged information, "these reports did not disclose the manner in which the information had been obtained or that such information reflected discussions between petitioner and counsel."

Mrs. Harry Rife of Ashville arrived Wednesday to visit the remainder of the week with her sister, Mrs. Wava Norman.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jonas and daughter, Marilee, of Grove City visited on Sunday with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Rhoades. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rhoades and children Jane Ellen, Robin, Carol and Roy Jr. from Chillicothe.

Col. and Mrs. John Ellis left Thursday morning after spending two weeks here with his father, Mr. A. D. Ellis and his aunt Miss Mildred Holderman. They also spent a weekend in Cincinnati. They will visit his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ellis, Sherrie and Tom in Memphis, Tenn., on their way to San Diego, Calif., for their new assignment. They were in San Diego for several years before going to Washington D. C., and still own their home there.

Mrs. Wilbur Kuhnheim of Columbus spent a few days this week with her mother, Mrs. Fred Leasure. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Leasure, Ricky and Ann of Middletown, spent the weekend here with his mother. They brought Mrs. Leasures sister, Mrs. Emma Welsheimer of Belmont, Calif., who had been spending a few days with them and with her sister, Mrs. Blanche Burke at Monroe, a retirement center near Middletown. Mrs. Welsheimer will be spending Saturday and Sunday in Circleville with Mrs. Forrest McGinnis.

Mrs. Bessie Ferguson of Cincinnati arrived Thursday to visit with Mrs. Leasure for a few days. She was accompanied by her daughter, Alice, and husband who will go on to Harbor Hills to visit Mr. and Mrs. Ira Korst. The Fergusons lived in Kingston many years ago and were neighbors of Mrs. Leasure.

Reward for a year's service as school boy patrolmen at Kingston Elementary School was a trip to the Cincinnati-Los Angeles baseball game.

Tickets were acquired through the Ross-Highland AAA Club.

Patrol members enjoying the outing were Rickie Edler, Marc Donahue, Freddie Chaffin, Jim Green, Dave Hammond, Tom Handley, Steve Phillips, Rick Rounsley and Randy Van Hooser. Chaperons were Austin Cruse teacher and patrol adviser, and Curtis Handley, patrol parent.

Approximately 125 guests were present Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bower in celebration of their 25th wedding Anniversary. The event was arranged by their daughters, Mrs. John Bright, and Mrs. Elene Bower Wood.

Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Dale Ebright, Marysville; Mrs. John Gorton, Columbus; and Mrs. Marvin Jones, Mrs. Lawrence Kerns, Mrs. J. B. Thomas and Mrs. Dwight Davis, of Kingston.

Guests were from Circleville, Hamilton, Columbus, Marysville, Laurelville, Chillicothe and Kingston. The two grandchildren, John and Penny Bright were present with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bright from Columbus, Ga.

Many gifts were received from their friends.

A four tiered wedding cake, with a heart shaped decoration and "25" in the center, was on the tea table, surrounded by white carnations sprinkled with silver dust and flanked by white and silver candles in silver holders. Punch was served from a silver punch bowl, and a silver coffee service was used. Mints and nuts were also served.

The children and grandchildren entertained the Bowers Thursday night a dinner at the L-K Restaurant, south of Circleville. A centerpiece of white carnations and a wedding cake, which was marked "Mom and Dad," were provided.

Enjoying the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Bower, Mr. and Mrs. John Bright and Johnny and Penny, Mrs. Elene Bower Woods and Sam Wolford.

Mrs. Wava Norman, one of the hostesses at the Ne Plus Ultra Sunday School Class meeting Tuesday evening, took a cake with candles to celebrate her birthday. Others in the committee, Mrs. John Davis, Mrs. William Raub and Mrs. Virginia Hutchinson, furnished ice cream, coffee and nuts.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Paul Miller, and Mrs. Norman presented devotions. Hymns used were "This is My Father's World" and "America the Beautiful." Routine business was conducted.

The Eves and Elves Mothers Club met Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Frank Wolfe. The president, Mrs. John D. Greenwalt, called the meeting to order.

Plans were made to attend the Spring Conference at Lancaster on Saturday. Members planning to attend were Mrs. Wolfe, Mrs. Guy Norman, Mrs. Ronald Leasingham, Mrs. Greenwalt, Mrs. Paul R. Davis, and Mrs. John Hamp.

The club year book was finished and approved by members. It was voted to pay $10 for the Kingston Park Festival and members will make individual contributions for the booths. The next meeting, June 15, will be "Husbands Night" and will be preceded by a covered dish dinner at the home of Mrs. Greenwalt.

outdoor chefs are very fussy!

Ever since the outdoor cooking fad began, we've been catering to the special needs of outdoor chefs.

Over the years, we've satisfied scores of thousands. Many, many find just the steak, chops or chicken they want in our self-service meat departments.

Others have specific needs... the steak must be 2 1/2" thick, the chops double thick and so forth. That's no problem.

If you don't see it...just ask. We'll be happy to help you.

One other reason we're so popular with "backyard barbecuers"... the quality of our "Super-Right" Meats.

Quality so high, some meat graded U.S. Choice just isn't perfect enough to be "Super-Right" Meat.

Is this a good reason for shopping A&P? It's one of many.

ARTHRITIS

Q. Does arthritis run in families?
A. Yes, and this may be a basic clue which could eventually lead to a better understanding of this baffling disorder. A doctor recently discussed the case of a 38-year-old woman with severe arthritis. Four of her five children had the disease. The patient's father and maternal aunt were also victims of arthritis, as were several other relatives. This seems to indicate that there are important familial factors which predispose to arthritis. Undoubtedly there are other and as yet unknown factors which actually precipitate the disease.

AGE AND CANCER

Q. It is true that if you live long enough you will die of cancer?
A. One of the penalties of attaining old age is an increased chance of developing cancer. In general, cancer is a biologic phenomenon related to the decay and degeneration of tissue. On the other hand, cancer usually does not occur in extreme old age. In fact, after attainment of the completely senile state, cancer generally becomes progressively infrequent.

Answers appearing in these columns are of necessity brief and general and do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all physicians. Remember—the diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician.

outdoor chefs are very fussy!

Ever since the outdoor cooking fad began, we've been catering to the special needs of outdoor chefs.

Over the years, we've satisfied scores of thousands. Many, many find just the steak, chops or chicken they want in our self-service meat departments.

Others have specific needs... the steak must be 2½" thick, the chops double thick and so forth. That's no problem.

If you don't see it...just ask. We'll be happy to help you.

One other reason we're so popular with "backyard barbecuers"... the quality of our "Super-Right" Meats.

Quality so high, some meat graded U.S. Choice just isn't perfect enough to be "Super-Right" Meat.

Is this a good reason for shopping A&P? It's one of many.

Q. Does arthritis run in families?
A. Yes, and this may be a basic clue which could eventually lead to a better understanding of this baffling disorder. A doctor recently discussed the case of a 38-year-old woman with severe arthritis. Four of her five children had the disease. The patient's father and maternal aunt were also victims of arthritis, as were several other relatives. This seems to indicate that there are important familial factors which predispose to arthritis. Undoubtedly there are other and as yet unknown factors which actually precipitate the disease.

AGE AND CANCER

Q. It is true that if you live long enough you will die of cancer?
A. One of the penalties of attaining old age is an increased chance of developing cancer. In general, cancer is a biologic phenomenon related to the decay and degeneration of tissue. On the other hand, cancer usually does not occur in extreme old age. In fact, after attainment of the completely senile state, cancer generally becomes progressively infrequent.

Answers appearing in these columns are of necessity brief and general and do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all physicians. Remember—the diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician.

We maintain stocks of over 4,000 finest quality drugs. No matter what your doctor prescribes, we can supply it immediately.

Hall-Adkins Auxiliary Unit Hears Poppy Drive Report

Sixteen members were present when the American Legion Auxiliary, Post 134, met at the Post Home Monday night.

Mrs. Orrin Driesbach, chaplain, opened the meeting with a prayer. Mrs. Charles Moss read the minutes of last month's meeting and Mrs. June Darst gave the financial report.

Mrs. Harold Hoffman, president, presided over the meeting.

Mrs. Robert Stephens, poppy chairman, reported on the poppy drive held last Saturday. The drive was conducted by five unit members, six junior members and 50 SOS girls from Circleville High School. Mrs. Stenobone Stonerock received the most donations in the drive.

Mrs. Stephens and her committee distributed 2500 poppies. The unit gave Mrs. Stephens a standing ovation for a job well done.

The American Legion and Auxiliary have provided a flag pole for Berger Hospital. A member of the Auxiliary donated the flag in memory of her husband.

Local businessmen donated miscellaneous items for erecting the pole on the hospital grounds. There will be a special Memorial Day ceremony for presentation of the flag to the hospital.

A Summer Conference and the election of the district president will be held June 26 in Portsmouth. The local unit voted on delegates and alternates to attend this conference and the State Convention which will be held in July in Columbus.

New Officers Installed by Logan Elm CCL

New officers of the Logan Elm Child Conservation League were installed during a meeting in the home of Mrs. Edward Evans Jr.

Mrs. George Minshall, president, presided during the business meeting. Plans were completed for a family picnic at Rising Park in Lancaster on June 19.

It was announced that four members will represent the chapter at the annual Spring Conference in Lancaster.

The meeting was closed with a devotional and a skit was performed by Mrs. Donald Carroll, Mrs. Ned Boldoser, Mrs. Charles Boldoser Jr. and Mrs. Edward Evans.

Refreshments were served to eight members.

Assisting the hostess was Mrs. Ned Boldoser and Mrs. Charles Boldoser Jr.

Bridal Shower Conducted for Mrs. James Daft

Mrs. James Daft, Stoutsville, was honored with a bridal shower hosted by Miss Barbara Courtright, Mrs. Grant Courtright and Mrs. Arthur Cave.

Guests assembled in a beautifully decorated room in which games were played. The bride opened many gifts and refreshments were served.

Attending were Mrs. Ronald Pontius, Amanda; Mrs. James Smith, Route 2, Lancaster; Miss Linda Bigham, Route 6, Lancaster; Miss Dana Smith, Oakland; Miss Nancy Cave, Miss Barbara Boyd, Mrs. Lillie Morrison and Mrs. Violet Rhymer, all of Stoutsville.

Gifts were sent by Mrs. Frank Lands, Miss Melody Bartholomew, Miss Geri Smith, Miss Kay Stalders, Miss Mary Huffer, Miss Sharon Warner, Miss Joe Porter, and Mrs. Dick Smith.

Grads of '66 Honored by Trinity Women

The Women of Trinity Lutheran Church sponsored a special service of recognition, followed by a reception, in honor of the high school graduates from Trinity.

The young people were seated together in the front of the church during the service. Later they formed a receiving line in the hall, giving the congregation an opportunity to extend personal congratulations to each one.

Refreshments were served to everyone in the church parlor during the fellowship hour.

Mrs. John MacKenzie and a committee from each of the circles made the arrangements.

Mowerys Host Graduate Fete

Mrs. and Mrs. George Mowery of Route 3, entertained Sunday in honor of their son, Ray, who will be graduated Wednesday from Westfall High School.

Following Baccalaureate Service at 2 p. m. at the High School, classmates, parents and members of the faculty assembled for the event.

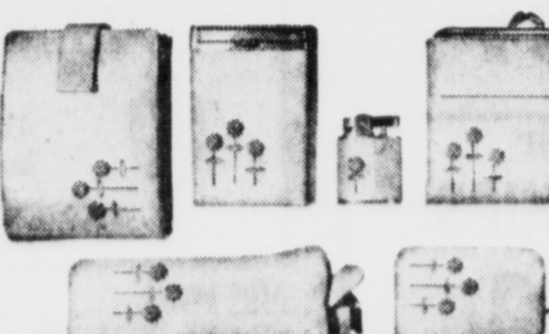

Refreshments were served from a table which had a centerpiece of red and white carnations, the class flowers.

Mrs. Mowery was assisted in serving by Mrs. Robert Eitel, Mrs. Clark Maughmer, Mrs. Paul Thompson and Mrs. James Sykes.

Dear Abby: Teen Not Only One at Fault

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I would like to voice a complaint against teenagers in general. A teen-ager had a transistor radio on a public bus yesterday, and he just about blasted the whole busload of passengers off the bus with rock rock and roll music. Why don't those teen-agers show a little respect for the rights of others?

ADULT

DEAR ADULT: Why condemn ALL teen-agers? Only one was guilty. The bus driver (an adult) was responsible for the comfort of his passengers. Didn't he shirk his duty?

DEAR ABBY: Why would a man with real animal magnetism repeatedly invite a woman out to dinner, tell her he's had a wonderful evening, kiss her goodnight at her door, and then call another woman and remain with her until dawn? I am no prude, neither am I underage.

I am a 44-year-old divorcee, normal in every respect, and I am not unattractive. I have invited this gentleman to come in for a nightcap, but he has always politely declined. I know he will take a few drinks so that's not it. This is not just guesswork. I am sure of my facts.

NO NIGHTCAP

DEAR NO NIGHTCAP: Either the gentleman regards you too highly to risk unleashing the animal in him which might escape should he start "nightcapping" with you. (This is a compliment.) Or else he is "nightcapping" with someone else. (This is an insult.) Get a few more facts and react accordingly.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for six years and am now furnishing my home. I carefully selected my color schemes, drapery fabrics and each piece of furniture. My mother-in-law is redecorating her home, which is my problem. She asked if I "minded" if she used my color scheme and draper fabric for her living room. What could I say? That wouldn't have been so

Mr. Devold Speaks to CWMS Women

The Christian Women's Missionary Society of Northridge Church of Christ met at the church for the annual guest night meeting, with 12 members and eight guests in attendance.

Mrs. Robert DeVold opened the meeting with devotions. Mrs. Bill Gary conducted a short business meeting and Mrs. Doane Wiggins presented a song.

The speaker for the evening was Mr. Stewart DeVold from Caldwell. He presented slides from the Holy Land. He recently returned from Turkey where he was stationed with the Army.

Mr. DeVold stated that the country around Jerusalem is quite commercialized but there are still many places which appear as they must have when Jesus walked on earth.

After a question and answer period, the women adjourned to the classrooms for refreshments served by Mrs. Roger Thomas.

Social Hour Group Plans Supper Meet

The Five Points Methodist Social Hour group will meet 7:30 p. m. Friday in the church basement for a regular meeting.

A covered dish supper will precede the meeting.

Convenience, Beauty Both Found in Your Kitchen

By ELEANOR ROSS

One look at the recent show staged by members of the American Institute of Kitchen Designers, and we knew what we had long suspected—the kitchen is on its way to becoming a glamour room.

New concepts in the appliance field play a part in this change. These include the stacked washer-dryer that can be operated simultaneously, and is housed in a handsome Early American cabinet which can be slid under the regular kitchen counter or placed beside the other kitchen appliances and cabinets.

Then there is a combination electronic oven, which reduces cooking time from hours to minutes, and the conventional electric range.

A home version of a famous restaurant electric char-broiler and twin ovens with their own systems to send smoke, heat and cooking odors outdoors while in use is an improvement long overdue.

Elegance is the watchword for the total kitchen which will feature new concepts in design and finishes, with mink, no less, moving into the cook's domain. There will be cabinets in a finish called "Ranch Mink" complemented with genuine mink covers on stools and chairs. There will be cabinets done in pecan and walnut to emphasize the grain, and highlighted by copper hardware forged for the particular unit.

The all-pervading Mediterranean influence has moved into the kitchen in decoration and design as it applies to cabinets.

One kitchen that attracted every visitor to the show was one that was epitome of elegance, done in a new design and finish in "Eventide orchid," with white and gold hardware.

In all, the complete kitchens displayed represented virtually all decorating periods and trends including stark modern in "Op Art" and "Pop Art" for the small home or apartment, as well as for the new or remodeled house.

Something really new and charming that delighted us was the landscaping of an adjoining terrace, and the selection and use of indoor plants and flowers suitable for the kitchen that has evolved into a pleasant family room.

What with carpeted kitchens containing appliances beautifully decorated or disguised, the whole scheme bright with plants, it all adds up to a room that has not only improved its utilitarian role, but one that has grown in tasteful glamour as well.

Ever serve corned beef hash this simple but good way? Turn the hash into a shallow baking dish or glass pie plate; top with lot of grated cheddar cheese and bake until popping hot. If necessary, run under the broiler to brown.

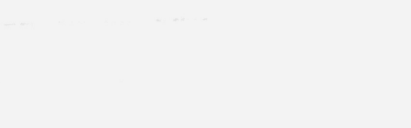

A six-ounce can of evaporated milk is the equivalent of two-thirds cup. So if a recipe calls for two-thirds cup of the undiluted milk, there's no need to measure; just use it straight from the can.

and raisin pudding, add the raisins about half an hour before the pudding is ready. When raisins are cooked for a long time in the mixture, they have a tendency to curdle it.

NO NIGHTCAP

DEAR NO NIGHTCAP: Either the gentleman regards you too highly to risk unleashing the animal in him which might escape should he start "nightcapping" with you. (This is a compliment.) Or else he is "nightcapping" with someone else. (This is an insult.) Get a few more facts and react accordingly.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for six years and am now furnishing my home. I carefully selected my color schemes, drapery fabrics and each piece of furniture. My mother-in-law is redecorating her home, which is my problem. She asked if I "minded" if she used my color scheme and draper fabric for her living room. What could I say?

That wouldn't have been so

DEAR ABBY: I would like to voice a complaint against teenagers in general. A teen-ager had a transistor radio on a public bus yesterday, and he just about blasted the whole busload of passengers off the bus with rock rock and roll music. Why don't those teen-agers show a little respect for the rights of others?

ADULT

DEAR ADULT: Why condemn ALL teen-agers? Only one was guilty. The bus driver (an adult) was responsible for the comfort of his passengers. Didn't he shirk his duty?

DEAR ABBY: Why would a man with real animal magnetism repeatedly invite a woman out to dinner, tell her he's had a wonderful evening, kiss her goodnight at her door, and then call another woman and remain with her until dawn? I am no prude, neither am I a derange.

I am a 44-year-old divorcee, normal in every respect, and I am not unattractive. I have invited this gentleman to come in for a nightcap, but he has always politely declined. I know he will take a few drinks so that's not it. This is not just guesswork. I am sure of my facts.

Mr. Devold Speaks to CWMS Women

The Christian Women's Missionary Society of Northridge Church of Christ met at the church for the annual guest night meeting, with 12 members and eight guests in attendance.

Mrs. Robert DeVold opened the meeting with devotions. Mrs. Bill Gary conducted a short business meeting and Mrs. Doane Wiggins presented a song.

The speaker for the evening was Mr. Stewart DeVold from Caldwell. He presented slides from the Holy Land. He recently returned from Turkey where he was stationed with the Army.

Mr. DeVold stated that the country around Jerusalem is quite commercialized but there are still many places which appear as they must have when Jesus walked on earth.

After a question and answer period, the women adjourned to the classrooms for refreshments served by Mrs. Roger Thomas.

Convenience, Beauty Both Found in Your Kitchen

One look at the recent show staged by members of the American Institute of Kitchen Designers, and we knew what we had long suspected—the kitchen is on its way to becoming a glamour room.

New concepts in the appliance field play a part in this change. These include the stacked washer-dryer that can be operated simultaneously, and is housed in a handsome Early American cabinet which can be slid under the regular kitchen counter or placed beside the other kitchen appliances and cabinets.

Then there is a combination electronic oven, which reduces cooking time from hours to minutes, and the conventional electric range.

A home version of a famous restaurant electric char-broiler and twin ovens with their own systems to send smoke, heat and cooking odors outdoors while in use is an improvement long overdue.

Elegance is the watchword for the total kitchen which will feature new concepts in design and finishes, with mink, no less, moving into the cook's domain. There will be cabinets in a finish called "Ranch Mink" complemented with genuine mink covers on stools and chairs. There will be cabinets done in pecan and walnut to emphasize the grain, and highlighted by copper hardware forged for the particular unit.

The all-pervading Mediterranean influence has moved into the kitchen in decoration and design as it applies to cabinets.

One kitchen that attracted every visitor to the show was one that was epitome of elegance, done in a new design and finish in "Eventide orchid," with white and gold hardware.

In all, the complete kitchens displayed represented virtually all decorating periods and trends including stark modern in "Op Art" and "Pop Art" for the small home or apartment, as well as for the new or remodeled house.

Something really new and charming that delighted us was the landscaping of an adjoining terrace, and the selection and use of indoor plants and flowers suitable for the kitchen that has evolved into a pleasant family room.

What with carpeted kitchens containing appliances beautifully decorated or disguised, the whole scheme bright with plants, it all adds up to a room that has not only improved its utilitarian role, but one that has grown in tasteful glamour as well.

LBJ Policy Backer Wins In Oregon

In that campaign, Viet Nam again is likely to be a dominant theme. Hatfield, who easily outdistanced three little-known rivals for the GOP nomination, has criticized Johnson's Asian policy.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., the Senate's senior critic of the administration position, campaigned for Morgan—and said he would vote for Hatfield in preference to Duncan.

Morse said he would have no assessment of the primary outcome until later today.

In an Oregon sidelight, former Rep. Charles Porter—critical of the administration stand in Viet Nam—led Dist. Atty. William Frye, a Johnson supporter, for the Democratic nomination to succeed Duncan.

In Florida, Burns had sought the Negro vote in the opening primary round but reversed his field in the runoff race. A check of heavily Negro precincts indicated High had won lopsided support there—3 to 1 in some cases.

Two years ago, Burns swamped the 5-foot 4½-inch High by a 180,000 vote margin. This time High had 585,183 votes, Burns 498,955 with only one precinct out.

Claude Kirk Jr. of Jacksonville is the Republican nominee for governor of Florida. No modern-day Republican has won the office.

In advance of the Oregon balloting, House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford told a reporter he senses a public mood that is likely to produce November votes against incumbent members of Congress.

Democrats outnumbered Republicans 293 to 139 in the House, so a bad year for re-election seeking congressmen could only mean a good year for the GOP.

Ford said mail and questions about Viet Nam are on the increase. "They run all the way from, 'Why don't we win the war?' to 'Why don't we get out,'" Ford said.

He said divisions over Viet Nam are damaging the Democratic party. "There are peace candidates running against some of our people," Ford said, "but they are Democrats. We don't face the situation the Democrats do of a number of incumbents opposed in their own party primaries on the Viet Nam issue."

Resolution On Medicare Is Shelved

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Mahoning County Medical Society resolution calling for medical care will not be considered at the Ohio State Medical Association's annual convention here.

The resolution was presented Tuesday night but failed to win approval for consideration from two thirds of the House of Delegates of the OSMA. It called for the patient to pay his doctor rather than having payment come from insurance companies or from Medicare coverage when it becomes available.

The OSMA constitution requires that resolutions must be presented 60 days prior to the annual convention or must win approval from two thirds of the House of Delegates in order to be considered at the convention.

An association spokesman said the Mahoning County resolution was not presented within the 60-day period and "became a dead issue" when it failed to get the required number of votes in the House of Delegates.

Some of the 40 resolutions that will be acted on Friday deal with the same subject as the Mahoning County resolution, although different terminology is used, the spokesman said.

Dr. Henry A. Crawford, association president, announced a "declaration of independence" for Ohio medicine as the convention opened Tuesday night.

Included was a statement of policy from the OSMA to eliminate the government or any third party from the financial arrangement between the doctor and his patient.

It was recommended that the policy apply now and when Medicare becomes effective in July.

If the policy is generally adopted, it would mean that the patient would have to collect his insurance and pay the various physicians who treat him in the hospital or out.

Dr. Essex said he could not argue with these figures.

Dr. Robert B. Binswanger of Cleveland was coordinator of the survey. He is executive director of the PACE Association, a foundation that has studied school problems in Cuyahoga County. The rest of the survey team was composed of five out-of-state college professors.

Tuesday, at a luncheon here, he heard a report prepared by a survey team of educators who appraised Ohio public schools and made recommendations for changes. The study was financed by several Ohio philanthropic organizations.

The crux of the findings: Spend more money. "I hope the report will be studied widely in Ohio," said Essex, who added he was grateful the sponsoring organizations "recognize the plight of the schools in our state."

The report's recommendations include several fiscal reforms, including establishment of a statewide mandatory school property tax of 17.5 mills. Minimum per pupil expenditures of $500 a year for elementary school pupils and $650 for secondary school pupils are recommended.

The current per pupil expenditure in Ohio is about $420, including local, state and federal funds. Representatives from the survey team and the sponsor foundations presented a copy of the report to State Finance Director Richard L. Krabach Tuesday afternoon.

"We just went over the report briefly," Krabach said. "I questioned the constitutionality of the proposal for a statewide property tax of 17.5 mills."

Such a tax would require statewide approval by voters, Krabach said. The legislature could only pass such legislation in the form of a proposed constitutional amendment since current state law prevents any district from taxing more than 10 mills without voter approval.

The report said Ohio ranks sixth in over-all wealth but 23rd in per pupil education spending, 30th in per capita education expenditures and 43rd in the percentage of school money provided by the state.

Democrats outnumbered Republicans 293 to 139 in the House, so a bad year for reelection seeking congressmen could only mean a good year for the GOP.

Ford said mail and questions about Viet Nam are on the increase. "They run all the way from, 'Why don't we win the war?' to 'Why don't we get out,'" Ford said.

He said divisions over Viet Nam are damaging the Democratic party. "There are peace candidates running against some of our people," Ford said. "but they are Democrats. We don't face the situation the Democrats do of a number of incumbents opposed in their own party primaries on the Viet Nam issue."

New Ohio School Chief Calls State Setup 'Poor'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The man who will soon direct Ohio's public school system agreed today with a report saying it compares poorly with those of other major states.

Resolution On Medicare Is Shelved

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Mahoning County Medical Society resolution calling for medical care will not be considered at the Ohio State Medical Association's annual convention here.

The resolution was presented Tuesday night but failed to win approval for consideration from two thirds of the House of Delegates of the OSMA. It called for the patient to pay his doctor rather than having payment come from insurance companies or from Medicare coverage when it becomes available.

The OSMA constitution requires that resolutions must be presented 60 days prior to the annual convention or must win approval from two thirds of the House of Delegates in order to be considered at the convention.

An association spokesman said the Mahoning County resolution was not presented within the 60-day period and "became a dead issue" when it failed to get the required number of votes in the House of Delegates.

Some of the 40 resolutions that will be acted on Friday deal with the same subject as the Mahoning County resolution, although different terminology is used, the spokesman said.

Dr. Henry A. Crawford, association president, announced a "declaration of independence" for Ohio medicine as the convention opened Tuesday night.

Included was a statement of policy from the OSMA to eliminate the government or any third party from the financial arrangement between the doctor and his patient.

It was recommended that the policy apply now and when Medicare becomes effective in July.

If the policy is generally adopted, it would mean that the patient would have to collect his insurance and pay the various physicians who treat him in the hospital or out.

"Ohio has not been keeping pace (in education) with other industrial states for a good long time... at least for the last decade," Dr. Martin W. Essex, now superintendent of Akron schools, said.

Dr. Essex will take office July 1 as state superintendent of public instruction, succeeding Dr. E. E. Holt.

Tuesday, at a luncheon here, he heard a report prepared by a survey team of educators who appraised Ohio public schools and made recommendations for changes. The study was financed by several Ohio philanthropic organizations.

The crux of the findings: Spend more money.

"I hope the report will be studied widely in Ohio," said Essex, who added he was grateful the sponsoring organizations "recognize the plight of the schools in our state."

The report's recommendations include several fiscal reforms, including establishment of a statewide mandatory school property tax of 17.5 mills. Minimum per pupil expenditures of $500 a year for elementary school pupils and $650 for secondary school pupils are recommended.

The current per pupil expenditure in Ohio is about $420, including local, state and federal funds.

Representatives from the survey team and the sponsor foundations presented a copy of the report to State Finance Director Richard L. Krabach Tuesday afternoon.

"We just went over the report briefly," Krabach said. "I questioned the constitutionality of the proposal for a statewide property tax of 17.5 mills."

Such a tax would require statewide approval by voters, Krabach said. The legislature could only pass such legislation in the form of a proposed constitutional amendment since current state law prevents any district from taxing more than 10 mills without voter approval.

The report said Ohio ranks sixth in over-all wealth but 23rd in per pupil education spending, 30th in per capita education expenditures and 43rd in the percentage of school money provided by the state.

Dr. Essex said he could not argue with these figures.

Dr. Robert B. Binswanger of Cleveland was coordinator of the survey. He is executive director of the PACE Association, a foundation that has studied school problems in Cuyahoga County. The rest of the survey team was composed of five out-of-state college professors.

Views on Television — Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — CBS' second "National Drivers Test" Tuesday night was as much an hour of instruction as it was a quiz and the lessons covered passengers, conduct and emergency repairs as well as driving techniques.

Probably few women drivers knew before the program that the best way to cool off a motor overheated by stop-and-go driving is to shift into neutral and race the motor. We do now.

What to do when you are caught by a red light on a pedestrians' crosswalk or intersection? Bump the light? Back up? Stand still and make the pedestrians walk around you? You stand still and accept their glares.

If your car gets a flat tire on an expressway where you cannot pull off to the side, do you halt in the right-hand lane to make repairs or await help, or do you keep riding on that flat until you can get off the road? You keep traveling since a chewed-up tire is not as serious as a deadly pileup of speeding cars.

These were some of the 22 questions and answers posed during the hour. The viewer scored his own answers, and CBS pretested a national sample of licensed drivers so we could tell how we fared. The average national sample score was 51 — one point over a rating of "poor."

Practice and experience in turning out this specialty type of program made this second driver's quiz much easier to follow. The first show was overloaded with detailed and not very interesting statistical reports on scores made by sample audiences.

With one exception, the demonstrations of poor driving habits on which questions were pegged were clear and concise. Drawings, diagrams and some pretty horrifying filmed demonstrations of bad driving ending in smashups were used.

Throughout the program, use of safety belts was emphasized. Two nonscoring "opinion questions" were inserted. One asked whether drivers over 65 should be given physical checkups and have their driving skills retested each time their license was up for renewal. Sixty-two per cent of the national sample thought they should be.

The second asked whether built-in safety features should be standard equipment. Seventy-four per cent of the sample said they should be standard equipment in cars at no extra cost, even at the sacrifice of style.

It was a well-organized interesting program. Hopefully it will persuade some of us to drive more wisely over the approaching Memorial Day weekend.

Logan Elm Gets Okay on $7800 Grant

A summer program in business machines has been approved under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Act for Logan Elm High School.

The school district will receive a $7,800 federal grant for the program, according to Gobble Branham, school federal assistance director.

"Through this program, students will develop a greater variety of skills to operate tools used in the daily routine of modern business making them productive, responsible adults," Branham pointed out.

Employment is available, both locally and in surrounding communities for well trained office technicians, he said. The basic understanding and skills in the use of business machines will facilitate training in the field of data processing, electronic computation and automation in general.

Plans are being made for the purchase of several new business machines. Twenty-eight students have enrolled in the 8-week course.

New Record Debt Ceiling Gives Little Elbow Room

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $330-billion debt ceiling, although the highest ever, could force the Treasury Department into a financial squeeze during the next fiscal year if all its chips don't fall into line.

That is the belief today of some officials who feel the ceiling voted Tuesday by the House Ways and Means Committee eliminated most of the built-in headroom they allowed for contingencies.

The department requested a $332-billion temporary debt ceiling for fiscal 1967 which begins July 1, up from the present temporary limit of $323 billion.

The $332-billion figure would give the Treasury about $3 billion headroom. Officials feel this would permit more efficient management of the debt if the added authorization was not needed for contingencies.

The Treasury nearly bumped the ceiling in the late 1950s and was forced to stretch out payments of some of the government's bills to remain within the limit.

The lower ceiling, it was reported, also might force the government to sell some of its financial assets prematurely instead of waiting for an ideal time in the money market.

The House committee's selection of the lower figure apparently was based on a report by the staff of the Senate-House Committee on Internal Revenue that the Treasury had forecast too large a budget deficit.

Treasury officials feel the joint committee's estimates are too optimistic.

The Treasury Department apparently plans to further move until the House acts on the debt ceiling — probably week after next. But it could request the Senate Finance Committee to stick with the original request of $332 billion.

If the Senate goes along with the higher limit, the outcome could be a splitting of the difference at $331 billion, a figure some Treasury officials say wouldn't be too hard to live with.

Nobody even discusses the possibility that Congress might refuse to act on a temporary ceiling and permit the limit to drop to its permanent level of $285 billion.

Congress always has gone along with an increase, although it has sometimes chopped the amount. It did so last year in approving the $328 billion figure, $1 billion short of the administration's request.

This year's request was based on a budget deficit of $3.9 billion for the fiscal year which ends June 30. Under a formula developed by former Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, this deficit is added to the existing temporary ceiling to reach the new figure.

But the Senate-House committee predicted a deficit under some circumstances might drop below $3.5 billion, but they can't foresee anything as low as the committee's figure.

Georgia Picket Decision Seen Harmful for NAACP

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People told the Supreme Court today its very survival — and that of the entire civil rights movement — may have been imperiled by a recent decision to let an $85,793 Georgia picketing judgment stand.

Asking the justices to reconsider the case, the NAACP said the high court's action opened the door to damage suits which could "harass, impoverish and eventually paralyze" the organization.

The Supreme Court dismissed without explanation April 27 an NAACP appeal from a Georgia ruling that the national association can be held liable for picketing ordered by its Savannah branch.

The 5-4 ruling produced a furious dissent by Justice William O. Douglas, who warned that "juries might run pell-mell" to destroy "unpopular groups" like the NAACP.

The NAACP had argued that it had no control over the picketing of a Savannah grocery store whose owner sued it, the local branch and local offices for damages.

Since the decision was announced, the NAACP said in a brief filed with the high court, it has been named a defendant with the local branch in a similar suit in Virginia and has been threatened with a third such suit in Philadelphia.

The NAACP brief gave no details of the cases, but an official told a reporter that in one the owner of a Victoria, Va., department store is asking $100,000 in punitive damages as a result of pamphlets passed out in front of his store.

In the Philadelphia suit, the official said, nursing homes which were picketed have threatened to sue for $100,000 in damages.

"If, in less than a month," the NAACP brief said, "petitioner has already incurred the onerous obligation of defending two such actions involving activities of its local branches, the course of future events is not difficult to anticipate."

When you're a big telephone company, you don't get to meet too many of the people you serve.

So you have to find ways to avoid thinking of a customer as just a line in a book full of numbers. Or a circuit in a complex telephone network. Or an address on a mailing machine.

We decided a long time ago that a communications company should never be out of touch with the people they work for.

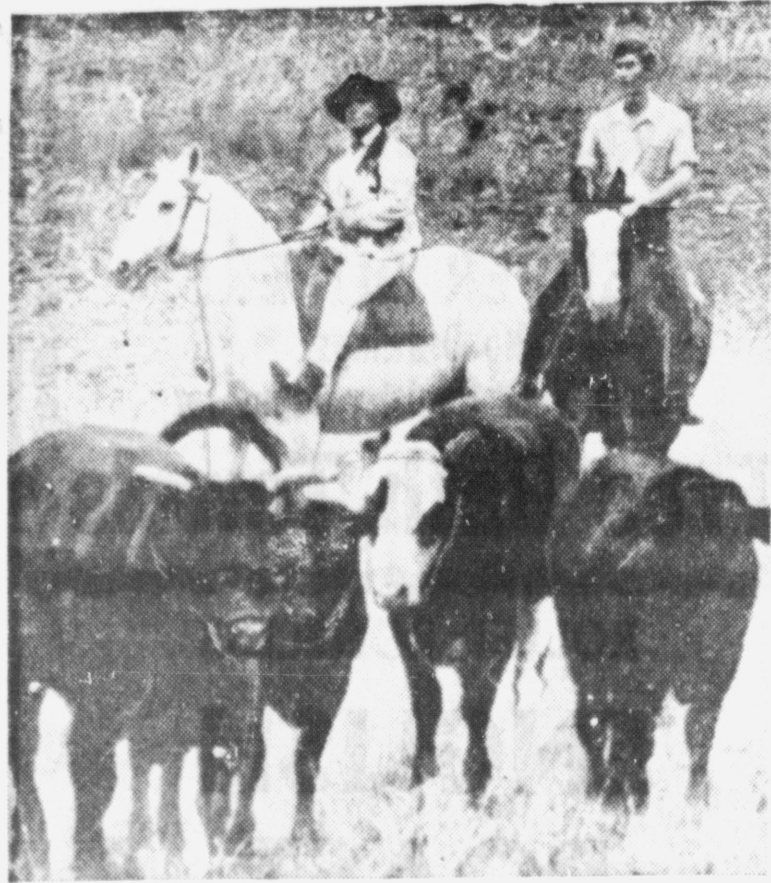

That's why we hire from the communities we serve. Linemen. Repairmen. Operators. Executives. Secretaries.

That's why we keep active in community affairs. With fund drives. Safety programs. Little Leagues. Junior Achievement.

And perhaps that's why we feel so close to all the people represented in that telephone book. A lot of them are us.

If your car gets a flat tire on an expressway where you can not pull off to the side, do you halt in the right-hand lane to make repairs or await help, or do you keep riding on that flat until you can get off the road? You keep traveling since a chewed-up tire is not as serious as a deadly pileup of speeding cars.

These were some of the 22 questions and answers posed during the hour. The viewer scored his own answers, and CBS pretested a national sample of licensed drivers so we could tell how we fared. The average national sample score was 51 — one point over a rating of "poor."

Practice and experience in turning out this specialty type of program made this second driver's quiz much easier to follow. The first show was overloaded with detailed and not very interesting statistical reports on scores made by sample audiences.

With one exception, the demonstrations of poor driving habits on which questions were pegged were clear and concise. Drawings, diagrams and some pretty horrifying filmed demonstrations of bad driving ending in smashups were used.

Throughout the program, use of safety belts was emphasized.

Two nonscoring "opinion questions" were inserted. One asked whether drivers over 65 should be given physical check-ups and have their driving skills retested each time their license was up for renewal. Sixty-two per cent of the national sample thought they should be.

The second asked whether built-in safety features should be standard equipment. Seventy-four per cent of the sample said they should be standard equipment in cars at no extra cost, even at the sacrifice of style.

It was a well-organized interesting program. Hopefully it will persuade some of us to drive more wisely over the approaching Memorial Day weekend.

Logan Elm Gets Okay on $7800 Grant

A summer program in business machines has been approved under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Act for Logan Elm High School.

The school district will receive a $7,800 federal grant for the program, according to Gobie Branham, school federal assistance director.

"Through this program, students will develop a greater variety of skills to operate tools used in the daily routine of modern business making them productive, responsible adults," Branham pointed out.

Employment is available, both locally and in surrounding communities for well trained office technicians, he said. The basic understanding and skills in the use of business machines will facilitate training in the field of data processing, electronic computation and automation in general.

Plans are being made for the purchase of several new business machines. Twenty-eight students have enrolled in the 8-week course.

New Record Debt Ceiling Gives Little Elbow Room

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $330-billion debt ceiling, although the highest ever, could force the Treasury Department into a financial squeeze during the next fiscal year if all its chips don't fall into line.

That is the belief today of some officials who feel the ceiling voted Tuesday by the House Ways and Means Committee eliminated most of the built-in headroom they allowed for contingencies.

The department requested a $332-billion temporary debt ceiling for fiscal 1967 which begins July 1, up from the present temporary limit of $328 billion.

The $332-billion figure would give the Treasury about $3 billion headroom. Officials feel this would permit more efficient management of the debt if the added authorization was not needed for contingencies.

The Treasury nearly bumped the ceiling in the late 1950s and was forced to stretch out payments of some of the government's bills to remain within the limit.

The lower ceiling, it was reported, also might force the government to sell some of its financial assets prematurely instead of waiting for an ideal time in the money market.

The House committee's selection of the lower figure apparently was based on a report by the staff of the Senate-House Committee on Internal Revenue that the Treasury had forecast too large a budget deficit.

Treasury officials feel the joint committee's estimates are too optimistic.

The Treasury Department apparently plans to further move until the House acts on the debt ceiling — probably week after next. But it could request the Senate Finance Committee to stick with the original request of $332 billion.

If the Senate goes along with the higher limit, the outcome could be a splitting of the difference at $331 billion, a figure some Treasury officials say wouldn't be too hard to live with.

Nobody even discusses the possibility that Congress might refuse to act on a temporary ceiling and permit the limit to drop to its permanent level of $285 billion.

Congress always has gone along with an increase, although it has sometimes chopped the amount. It did so last year in approving the $328 billion figure, $1 billion short of the administration's request.

This year's request was based on a budget deficit of $3.9 billion for the fiscal year which ends June 30. Under a formula developed by former Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, this deficit is added to the existing temporary ceiling to reach the new figure.

But the Senate-House committee predicted a deficit under some circumstances might drop below $3.5 billion, but they can't foresee anything as low as the committee's figure.

When you're a big telephone company, you don't get to meet too many of the people you serve.

So you have to find ways to avoid thinking of a customer as just a line in a book full of numbers. Or a circuit in a complex telephone network. Or an address on a mailing machine.

We decided a long time ago that a communications company should never be out of touch with the people they work for.

That's why we hire from the communities we serve. Linemen. Repairmen. Operators. Executives. Secretaries.

That's why we keep active in community affairs. With fund drives. Safety programs. Little Leagues. Junior Achievement.

And perhaps that's why we feel so close to all the people represented in that telephone book. A lot of them are us.

British Health Recording Gives Sex Instruction

URMSTON, England (AP) — British health authorities are planning to distribute a tape recording on sex instruction written by a mother of two children in this Manchester suburb.

The 40-minute tape — "Time To Talk" — offers an example to parents the answers given by an English couple to questions that arise while their children are growing up.

The dialogue topics include birth, sexual organs, masturbation, menstruation, kissing, petting, intercourse, venereal disease and birth control.

"It tells the whole story, we think, in a far more realistic way than by making a child sit in a corner with a book," says the author, Frances Hancock.

In the tape's opening episode, the mother tells her 5-year-old daughter and 8-year-old son that she is going to have another baby.

The children ask where the baby comes from, and she replies: "The baby is growing here in my tummy. God plans everything wonderfully by having the baby grow from a little seed smaller than the seeds we planted in the garden. Daddy gave me the seed and there is a little place in my tummy for it to grow."

On birth, the mother teaches: "When the baby is ready, it stretches like elastic so he can come out."

Parents should make use of events such as the birth of a baby or a family cat's having kittens to give early and gradual sex instruction, Mrs. Hancock says.

Thus the mother on the tape later has her children help with the baby's bath while she explains the umbilical cord, mother's milk and the difference between girls' and boys' bodies.

Shortly before the son reaches puberty, the father tells him masturbation is "sort of a baby habit."

The mother, meanwhile, explains menstruation to her daughter, and at the same time gives an explanation of procreation.

Mrs. Hancock has attempted to make the tape palatable to both Protestant and Roman Catholic clergy. There are several references to God's plan.

While the parents explain that sex is beautiful, they add: "Love can not be separated from bringing new life into the world."

The mother explains to her daughter — now 16 — that there are four main methods of contraception — the rhythm system, mechanical barriers, the intrauterine device, and hormone pills.

But she adds that medical advice is needed for each one and that selection depends upon one's principle and beliefs.

Mrs. Hancock's children are 7 and 15. She is trained in educational psychology and teaches remedial classes in a local school.

Actors on the tape are all volunteers. A boy, 11, and a high school girl play the children.

Mrs. Hancock has advertised the tape in the local newspaper and taken orders for 54 tapes at $3.50 each. Local health and education groups have so far offered only their blessings.

COURT MARTIAL POSTPONED INDEFINITELY—Mrs. Adam Weber holds a photo of her son, Pvt. Adam R. DeGaulle Opponents Plan Takeover

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle is riding firmly the seat of power, but off in the political wilderness his opposition is struggling to prepare for the day when he will step down.

There is little now to give the lie to De Gaulle's old prediction: "After me a mess" — Apres moi, la pagaille.

Trying now to form ranks for the day when De Gaulle goes are two main groups with dizzy-sounding names and even fuzzier support. One is led by an old political hand, Francois Mitterrand, and the other by a Kennedy-style politician, Jean Lecanuet.

Mitterrand's group is called the Democratic and Socialist Federation and Lecanuet's is labeled the Democratic Center.

Considerable opposition voting polarized around the two men in the presidential election campaign late last year. Mitterrand came in second in the first round of voting and Lecanuet was a strong third. The two forced De Gaulle into a runoff round which he had no real trouble winning. But the Gauls got a shock and they are worried that they might lose their parliamentary majority in elections to be held perhaps about a year from now.

If either Mitterrand or Lecanuet can paste together enough voter strength to blunt or knock out the Gaullist parliamentary majority, he would obviously be in line as a strong presidential contender. De Gaulle took office in January for a 7-year term but he will be 76 in November and he could step down before 1973 if he decides his mission is completed, or if his health fails.

Mitterrand, Lecanuet and others want to be ready for any such development. It is far from sure they can keep their troops together or enlarge their ranks significantly.

An indication of Mitterrand's problem has become evident recently. He rolled up 31.71 per cent of the vote in the first presidential electoral round last December with strong Communist party support although he never fully embraced the Communists.

Early this month, Mitterrand named a shadow cabinet, British style, to wait for the day when De Gaulle bows out. The Communists didn't rate a seat on Mitterrand's "cabinet." Suddenly their love affair with Mitterrand was over.

Lecanuet, who picked up 15.57 per cent of the vote last December, is trying to spread his political base, but with no clear evidence of great success.

Researchers Say Ohio's Education Needs Updating

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's public education system needs updating and more money to assure equal education opportunities for all children, according to an independent research report issued Tuesday.

The cost of providing such improved education may require doubling the financial burden of taxpayers in the coming decade, it added.

The report, "Achieving Equality of Educational Opportunity," was prepared for a group of Ohio philanthropic organizations by a team of our-state college professors.

Recommendations in the report include establishing school foundation program amounts of $500 or each elementary pupil and $650 for each secondary school pupil.

Establishing a mandatory school property tax of 17.5 mills proceeds distributed by the state to local districts.

Establishing "resource equalizer" grants to help districts in low-income areas.

Offering foundation payment bonuses of 10 per cent to districts meeting defined state standards in several areas.

Establishing research programs to keep Ohio public education abreast with the rapid changes of technology, the sciences, arts and social order.

Sponsoring organizations for the report include Akron Community Trusts, The Columbus Foundation, Dayton Foundation, The Greater Cincinnati Foundation, Greater Cleveland Foundation.

tion, Kettering Foundation of Dayton, the Lorain Foundation, Mount Vernon Community Trust, Richland County Foundation of Mansfield, Schmidlapp Trust of Cincinnati and the Stark County Foundation.

Other recommendations: Establishing a "percentage equalizing" plan through which the state would share in the cost of capital improvements in local school districts.

Intensifying the "attack against the cultural disadvantages of children living in city slums or areas of rural blight."

Steering the importance of "continuing education" for adults.

Ohio's position, according to the report, is 23rd among the states in respect to teachers salaries and per pupil expense, 30th in per capita education spending and 43rd in the percentage of money provided by the state for education.

At the same time, the report said, "Ohio is in the top one-third of all states in per capita income . . . (and) sixth in overall wealth."

Federal Loan Shift Given Congress OK

WASHINGTON (AP) Congress has given President Johnson authority to shift $4.2 billion in government-held loans to private investors in the next year.

The Senate completed action on the measure by voting 50 to 20 to accept minor House changes in an original Senate bill. In the showdown, 47 Democrats and 3 Republicans voted to clear the measure; 18 Republicans and 2 Democrats opposed it.

The House Ways and Means Committee began work today on a proposed new national debt ceiling. But its senior Republican member said congressional authorization to transfer the federal loans to private investors made any ceiling figure meaningless.

The Treasury asked Congress Monday to raise the limit of $332 billion. Congress must act by June 30 or the present ceiling of $328 billion will drop automatically to $285 billion. Congress so far has never failed to raise the ceiling.

Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., said the committee would get no help from the GOP as it considered the request. Democrats "made the debt ceiling meaningless" by pushing through the loan transfer bill, he said.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, May 25, the 145th day of 1966. There are 220 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1787, the first regular session of the Constitutional Convention met in Philadelphia and elected George Washington as its president.

On this date

In 1862, Gen. "Stonewall" Jackson and his Confederate troops were defeated in battle in Winchester, Va.

In 1903, the Lackawanna and Wyoming Valley Railroad put into service the first third-rail electric railway.

In 1929, the first air mail from Lima, Peru, was delivered at New York City.

In 1957, the third tube of New York's Lincoln Tunnel, the first triple-tube traffic tunnel in the world, was opened to traffic.

Ten years ago—The nation's air defense commander, Gen. Earl Partidge, told a Senate subcommittee that U.S. fighter planes could not fly high or fast enough to intercept the new Soviet intercontinental bomber.

Five years ago — President John F. Kennedy asked Congress to approve programs designed to put a man on the moon before 1970, expand U.S. non-nuclear military strength and increase foreign aid.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, May 25, the 145th day of 1966. There are 220 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1787, the first regular session of the Constitutional Convention met in Philadelphia and elected George Washington as its president.

On this date

In 1862, Gen. "Stonewall" Jackson and his Confederate troops were defeated in battle in Winchester, Va.

In 1903, the Lackawanna and Wyoming Valley Railroad put into service the first third-rail electric railway.

In 1929, the first air mail from Lima, Peru, was delivered at New York City.

In 1957, the third tube of New York's Lincoln Tunnel, the first triple-tube traffic tunnel in the world, was opened to traffic.

Ten years ago—The nation's air defense commander, Gen. Earl Partidge, told a Senate subcommittee that U.S. fighter planes could not fly high or fast enough to intercept the new Soviet intercontinental bomber.

Five years ago — President John F. Kennedy asked Congress to approve programs designed to put a man on the moon before 1970, expand U.S. non-nuclear military strength and increase foreign aid.

CLAIMANT—This stone in the Crab Orchard Christian Church Cemetery five miles southwest of Carbondale, Ill., makes its claim to a contested "first." It was here that a mother and her two children were seen decorating the grave of the husband and father, killed in the Civil War. A document recounts that from this small observance there stemmed a larger one in Carbondale on April 29, with Gen. John A. Logan as speaker. However, "first" claims are made for several other sites in the nation.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The one hope for stability in South Viet Nam at this time seems to be iron-fisted toughness, not democracy, and it may long remain that way.

The American ideal of the good society in Viet Nam would be a democratic one. But events over the years — particularly recent events — throw doubt on the readiness of the Vietnamese for democracy. They never had it.

One government after another was swept out by plots, ambitions, and protests, especially by Buddhist leaders, until the present group of generals took over under Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

He promised elections and a constitutional government within a year. This didn't satisfy the Buddhist leaders. In trying to throw him out, they revolted at Da Nang.

This revolt, judging from what happened, was poorly planned and badly organized.

Although Buddhists make up 80 per cent of the population, in the showdown they lacked mass support. Ky used the army to crush the uprising.

Unrest continues in the northern city of Hue and, to some extent, among Buddhists in the capital of Saigon. But Ky, according to reports from Saigon, is confident he can squelch this kind of opposition.

Richard Critchfield of the Washington Evening Star, writing out of Viet Nam, has presented a disgusting picture of the Da Nang Buddhists who wanted a hand, and no doubt eventual control, in running the government.

He describes them as a bunch of callous, cold-blooded, merciless opportunists who exploited the dead and the wounded for their own ends. He writes of their "incredible cynicism toward human life."

His story — of how the Buddhists enticed newsmen into their pagoda and then tried to use them as hostages against attack by Ky's troops—reveals how the Buddhist rebels lost their deal for revolt under fire.

For days, he said, Buddhists had shot into neighborhood houses and "then collected wounded and killed and paraded them before the press as victims of government repression."

Yet, these are the same men who have been demanding constitutional government. Their performance was irresponsible and cruel. It is still not clear whether they are in league with the North Vietnamese Communists.

If Ky goes through with his plans for a democratic government, the Buddhist leaders will want a large and no doubt dominant role in it. But it hardly seems possible after the disclosures at Da Nang that they want a democratic government or any kind of government — but a Buddhist dictatorship.

Therefore, it should not be surprising if Ky and the generals refuse to let the elections occur within a year or for some time afterward because the Buddhist leaders project a vision not of order but of anarchy.

One thing is sure: the U.S. war against the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese Communists cannot continue if South Viet Nam disintegrates much further into the kind of brainless disorder the Buddhist leaders sought.

If there is a connection between the Buddhist leaders and the Communists it may begin to show up if Ky restores stability to South Viet Nam. So long as the Buddhists revolted, the Reds could hope for internal collapse. That would have saved them a need for a total showdown with the United States. If there's no internal collapse, they will have to rely on war.

Guardsmen Phifer, Jordan Named for Officer Course

Two members of Circleville's Ohio National Guard unit have been selected as officer candidates.

The guardsmen are William R. Jordan of Route 3 and Raymond Phifer, 220 E. Corwin St. Their selection was announced today by Ohio Army National Guard Officer Candidate School personnel.

Phifer, a 1959 graduate of Circleville High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Phifer of 716 S. Washington St. He and his wife, Mary, have no children.

The CHS graduate is employed at City National Bank & Trust Co. in Columbus as a messenger and printer.

sive training on weekends at Fort Hayes in Columbus, in addition to four weeks at Camp Perry, O.

To become second lieutenants, the candidates receive training in military leadership, tactics, weapons and other related subjects.

The Officer Candidate School of the Ohio Army National Guard is one of some 51 throughout the United States established as the practical way of encouraging guardsmen to qualify and work for their commission with a minimum of time lost at their civilian occupation.

JORDAN is a 1965 graduate of South Portsmouth High School. He attended Ohio State University.

The local guardsman, employed by the Western & Southern Life Insurance Co. as an underwriter, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jordan, 204 Logan St. His wife's name is Darlene.

Both men are members of Circleville's 2nd Rifle & Weapons Platoon, Co. A, 1st Battalion, 166th Infantry.

Automakers Study Sales

Some Cheered By New Report

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry tried to figure out today whether mid-May auto sales figures were good or bad.

Optimists were cheered that the 242,497 sales posted May 11-20 ran about 50,000 cars ahead of the early May totals.

Others noted that the latest total lagged about 3,000 units behind the corresponding 19 days of last year. It also marked the fourth time in the last five 10-day periods that sales figures trailed those of a year ago.

The sales pattern was the same at all four auto companies.

General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and American Motors all sold more cars than they did in the opening 10 days of this month when sales dipped sharply. Each sold fewer cars than in May 11-20, 1965.

There were many cheering signs in the over-all auto picture.

Sales for calendar 1966 through May 20 totaled 3,681,096 new cars, about 1 per cent or 32,749 cars ahead of the 1965 pace.

May's auto production quota of about 800,000 cars appeared within reach. It would mark the second biggest May in automotive history, second only to the 837,701 cars built in that month last year.

Dealer inventory the total of cars in dealer hands or en route to them, passed the 1.6 million mark for the first time. At industry leaders appeared convinced the model cleanup could be achieved with a minimum of difficulty.

The sales figures were the first compiled since May 13 when Henry Ford II predicted 1966 auto sales would wind up at around 9 million, about 300,000 under his former estimate. Ford said auto safety publicity was a factor in the yearly sales drop.

Library of Congress To Get War Collection

OAK PARK, Ill. (AP) — A collection of Civil War research, gathered by E. B. Long, "Oak Park historian," will be presented to the Library of Congress Friday.

The gift consists of more than nine million words of notes taken from 3,500 sources. These include 961 manuscript collections belonging to individuals and institutions plus books, magazines and newspaper files.

Long, a former staff writer and editor for The Associated Press, collected the material for "The Centennial History of the Civil War," by Bruce Catton, Pulitzer Prize historian.

CLAIMANT—This stone in the Crab Orchard Christian Church Cemetery five miles southwest of Carbondale, Ill., makes its claim to a contested "first." It was here that a mother and her two children were seen decorating the grave of the husband and father, killed in the Civil War. A document recounts that from this small observance there stemmed a larger one in Carbondale on April 29, with Gen. John A. Logan as speaker. However, "first" claims are made for several other sites in the nation.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The one hope for stability in South Viet Nam at this time seems to be iron-fisted toughness, not democracy, and it may long remain that way.

The American ideal of the good society in Viet Nam would be a democratic one. But events over the years — particularly recent events — throw doubt on the readiness of the Vietnamese for democracy. They never had it.

One government after another was swept out by plots, ambitions, and protests, especially by Buddhist leaders, until the present group of generals took over under Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

He promised elections and a constitutional government within a year. This didn't satisfy the Buddhist leaders. In trying to throw him out, they revolted at Da Nang.

This revolt, judging from what happened, was poorly planned and badly organized.

Although Buddhists make up 80 per cent of the population, in the showdown they lacked mass support. Ky used the army to crush the uprising.

Unrest continues in the northern city of Hue and, to some extent, among Buddhists in the capital of Saigon. But Ky, according to reports from Saigon, is confident he can squelch this kind of opposition.

Richard Critchfield of the Washington Evening Star, writing out of Viet Nam, has presented a disgusting picture of the Da Nang Buddhists who wanted a hand, and no doubt eventual control, in running the government.

He describes them as a bunch of callous, cold-blooded, merciless opportunists who exploited the dead and the wounded for their own ends. He writes of their "incredible cynicism toward human life."

His story — of how the Buddhists enticed newsmen into their pagoda and then tried to use them as hostages against attack by Ky's troops—reveals how the Buddhist rebels lost their deal for revolt under fire.

For days, he said, Buddhists had shot into neighborhood houses and "then collected wounded and killed and paraded them before the press as victims of government repression."

Yet, these are the same men who have been demanding constitutional government. Their performance was irresponsible and cruel. It is still not clear whether they are in league with the North Vietnamese Communists.

If Ky goes through with his plans for a democratic government, the Buddhist leaders will want a large and no doubt dominant role in it. But it hardly seems possible after the disclosures at Da Nang that they want a democratic government or any kind of government — but a Buddhist dictatorship.

Therefore, it should not be surprising if Ky and the generals refuse to let the elections occur within a year or for some time afterward because the Buddhist leaders project a vision not of order but of anarchy.

One thing is sure: The U.S. war against the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese Communists cannot continue if South Viet Nam disintegrates much further into the kind of brainless disorder the Buddhist leaders sought.

If there is a connection between the Buddhist leaders and the Communists it may begin to show up if Ky restores stability to South Viet Nam. General Taylor Gives Assessment Of Situation in South Viet Nam

EDITOR'S NOTE — The conflict in Viet Nam frequently has been called "the confusing war." Why is the United States there? What are its commitments to the Saigon government. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor has been intimately involved in the Viet Nam question, as U.S. ambassador to the country, as adviser to two presidents, and defender of administration policies there. The following article, written before the current crisis and developments in Da Nang and Saigon, gives his unofficial personal assessment of the Viet Nam situation.

By Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor
Written for Associated Press

There is an impression very generally held about the country that the situation in South Viet Nam is so confused that the average citizen can hardly be expected to understand the rights and wrongs of it. This article undertakes to demonstrate the contrary in minimum words — that in spite of their seeming complexity, the issues in the United States involvement in South Viet Nam are simple, clear and readily explained.

We are involved in South Viet Nam today because the independence of that country is being threatened by the subversive aggression conducted by the Communist leadership in North Viet Nam. Since 1954, that leadership has had the purpose of imposing Communist domination upon the South Vietnamese people against the will of the vast majority.

Our purpose, as expressed by President Johnson, is simple and direct: "Our objective is the independence of South Viet Nam and its freedom from attack. We want nothing for ourselves — only that the people of South Viet Nam be allowed to guide their own country in their own way."

In danger of being overwhelmed, the South Vietnamese people through their government have repeatedly requested the aid of the United States and affirmatively to these requests. We have done so for three valid reasons.

The first is our traditional attitude in opposition to aggression and colonization whether imperialist or Communist, and our historic support of the right of self-determination for all nations.

Beyond this motivation, we have a second reason in the fact that the United States is formally committed to assisting South Viet Nam under the terms of the SEATO treaty passed by a Senate in February 1955 by a vote of 82-1.

Finally, we have felt ourselves obliged to assist South Viet Nam out of consideration of the worldwide consequences to ourselves and to the free world of a Communist success in South Viet Nam. Thus, our principles, our pledged word and our self-interest all have impelled us to take the course of action which we are following.

Actuated by these motives, we have undertaken to cause Hanoi to cease the aggression which it is conducting against South Viet Nam and thus to allow a restoration of peace and stability in South Viet Nam and Southeast Asia. To bring the Communist leaders to this change of behavior, it has been essential to increase our combat effectiveness in the ground fighting in South Viet Nam against the Viet Cong guerrillas and the infiltrated units of the North Vietnamese army.

We are achieving this increase by developing to a maximum the strength of the armed forces and police of South Viet Nam and by adding thereto progressive increments of United States ground troops. To reduce the flow of reinforcements and men and equipment coming from North Viet Nam to support the guerrilla war, we are using our air power and that of the South Vietnamese against military targets north of the 17th Parallel.

While these military actions have been taking place, we have been doing everything possible to improve the stability and effectiveness of the government in Saigon and in the provinces and to defend the economy of the country against the growing threat of inflation.

Finally, while all these activities go on, we are continuously engaged in a search for a peaceful solution through honorable negotiation. In combination, these activities — military, political, economic and diplomatic — are designed to convince the leaders in Hanoi that it is in their own interest to change their ways.

Our success in pursuing these lines of action has been uneven. On the military front, thanks to the growing effectiveness of our United States ground and air forces we have seized the initiative and are imposing very heavy casualties on the Viet Cong guerrillas and on the infiltrated regular army units of North Viet Nam. The general military situation is quite favorable although the enemy continues to bring in reinforcements.

In March and April, we passed through a period of renewed political turbulence marked by the antigovernment activities of an opposition group in the Hue-Da Nang area, composed of the Tri Quang clique of the Buddhists, the supporters of Gen. Thi — whose relief from command of the I Corps triggered the demonstrations — and the traditional dissidents in Hue-Da Nang who regularly oppose any government in Saigon. These antigovernment activities have ended in an apparent compromise, based on the holding of general elections for a constitutional convention in the next few months. The forecast is for continuing political activity and unrest during the summer and fall as South Viet Nam, in the midst of war, strives to lay the foundations of constitutional government.

On the economic front, the evidence of inflation is increasing but the situation is receiving intensive treatment from the responsible Vietnamese and United States economists, recently assisted by Representatives of the International Monetary Fund.

On the diplomatic front, there is still no indication from the Communist side of a serious desire to open peace negotiations. Actually, it is premature to expect negotiations until the Communist leaders have a compelling incentive to seek a prompt, peaceful settlement. Until they are convinced of the necessity for peace, there is the risk of a repetition of the prolonged, fruitless wrangling at Panmunjom, which lasted two years before we got a Korean armistice. The experience reminds us that the initiation of negotiations with the Communists does not necessarily mean that peace is just around the corner.

In the meantime, no one has suggested a better strategy than the one described above if we are to retain our basic objective of an independent South Viet Nam, free from attack. All other alternatives which have been suggested have serious objections. A deliberate pullout on the part of the United States is unthinkable and fortunately receives little support even from the sharpest critics of our present policy.

A holding strategy has been proposed, under the terms of which our forces would give up the offensive and pass to the static defense of certain fortified bases or enclaves. Such deliberate passivity on our part would surrender large blocs of the civilian population to Viet Cong domination, would destroy the morale of the government and people of South Viet Nam, and would forego any hope of final success.

It would take the pressure off the Hanoi leaders and would remove any incentive for them to come to a conference table in a mood to negotiate a just settlement. The American tops themselves would not accept for long such an inglorious posture; neither would our people who sooner or later would say as some voices sometimes do even now: "Let's end it or get out." In the inability to end it, a sit-out would soon result in a pull-out.

The third alternative which has been suggested is the all-out use of our military strength — perhaps giving Hanoi and Peking an ultimatum to lay off South Viet Nam, followed by unlimited air attacks if they do not comply. This course runs a maximum risk of major war with Red China and furthermore destroys prematurely the government in Hanoi whose collaboration may be useful in the ultimate restoration of peace and stability in Southeast Asia.

The fourth alternative is to try to turn over the Viet Nam problem to the United Nations. Unfortunately, the United Nations does not want his problem, and could not cope with it if it were accepted. Finally, Hanoi and Peking will have absolutely nothing to do with the United Nations and will accept no participation by that body in any settlement.

We know of no other alternatives than those discussed above. Hence, we are left with the present course of action.

Billy Graham Books Crusade in England

LONDON (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham arrived in Britain Tuesday to prepare his month-long religious crusade. It is scheduled to open by June 1.

He said he was aiming his second crusade in Britain at the young people. Since he was here in 1954, he said, he has concluded that "these young people are searching for something; they aren't rebelling against Christ but against organized Christianity."

Cincy Firm Sends 'Death' Cards to Viet

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Cincinnati playing card manufacturer has played a trump card in the Viet Nam war.

It's the ace of spades — one thousand aces of spades.

It all started about three months ago when Allison F. Stanley, company president, received a letter from two lieutenants of Company C, Second Battalion 35th Regiment, 25th Infantry Division.

The two fighters wrote Stanley that U. S. soldiers had discovered the Viet Cong fears the very sight of the ace of spades, which according to oriental lore, is the card of death.

The lieutenants requested 1,000 of the black aces for their outfit to leave as "calling cards" following attacks on Viet Cong encampments.

Stanley and his vice president in charge of sales, Andrew C. Luther, immediately got to work.

They contacted the U. S. Defense Department, and as soon as decks were cleared the "death cards" were on their way.

The official said Monday night they had received word from the infantry company that the 1,000 aces had been received and were "being put to good use."

Tigers Blanked By Indians, 7-0

Circleville's baseball Tigers were the victims of a 7-0 shut-out at Hillsboro Tuesday in South Central Ohio League action.

It was the ninth loss of the season for Circleville, seven of them in South Central Ohio League action, compared to one win.

Eddie Robbins, Indian ace right handed hurler, started on the mound and was the winner. He struck out six and allowed two singles.

Robbins did not issue a single base on balls during his stint. He was relieved by Reed, who whiffed three and was touched for two hits.

NICK NANCE, Tiger senior southpaw, went the route for Circleville. He walked two, fanned three and allowed nine hits.

Robbins and Benny Rhoads both blasted four base hits off Nance while Reed connected for a double.

The Indians opened scoring in the bottom of the second inning with four runs. In the fourth, the hosts added a pair and wrapped up their offense in the sixth with one tally.

Circleville plays at Teays Valley tonight and tomorrow Hillsboro will be here for another league tilt.

The last game of the season is slated Friday at Wilmington.

Dore' Hurls Vikings to Win Over Franklin Heights, 8-4

Teays Valley, behind the four-hit pitching of Bill Dore' Tuesday, defeated Central District co-champ Franklin Heights, 8-4, on the Viking diamond.

It was the second time this season the Vikings have defeated Franklin Heights.

Teays Valley has a 5-5 record in Metropolitan League action. Yesterday's tilt was the team's final league game.

The Vikings host Circleville tonight. They entertain Columbus Bishop Hartley Friday in a two-night doubleheader.

THE VIKINGS scored three runs in the second inning to take a 3-2 lead. Mike Lombardo led off with a single, Dave Cook reached first on an error and Rick Brown flied out.

Lombardo and Cook then pulled a double steal, setting the stage for Gary Wilson's single, which drove in Lombardo. Cook scored on a wild throw to third. Dore' singled to drive in the third run of the frame.

In the sixth, Kinsell singled to left, Glen Gulick reached first on an error and Rick Pickering singled in Kinsell. Cook walked and Bill Fridley doubled scoring Gulick and Pickering.

Singles by Wilson and Cook drove in two more runs for Teays Valley.

Dore' fanned four and walked four while on the mound.

For the Falcons Ray Malone went the route, giving up nine hits, fanning three and walking two.

Ladies Golf League Postponed at PCC

There will be no women's golf league play Thursday at the Pickaway Country Club.

Other ladies day activities are scheduled to get under way at 9:30 a. m.

The PCC ladies will hold their annual flag tournament Sunday and Monday.

Vicar Raps Spongers Who Abandoned Turpin

LEAMINGTON SPA, England (AP) — A Church of England vicar denounced Tuesday the spongers who deserted Randy Turpin, the former world middleweight champion, when his fame faded.

Thousands of mourners turned out to give a final farewell to the boxer as he was buried in a Leamington Spa cemetery.

Westfall High Tops Piketon In 11-6 Tilt

Westfall High School's baseball team continued on a scoring rampage Tuesday, handing visiting Piketon an 11-6 loss in Scioto Valley Conference game.

The Mustangs now have notched 50 runs in the last three games. They also have been credited with 38 stolen bases.

In second place in the SVC, Westfall has a 5-2 record. A game remains with leader Union, 4-0 in the league.

The Mustangs have won 11 games while losing four for the season.

NEIL COLEMAN was Westfall's starting pitcher and winner. He was charged with all six runs Piketon scored in the top of the sixth before he was relieved by Don Combs who finished the tilt.

Between them they walked eight and fanned five. Piketon had seven hits, including four in the sixth inning.

Deering started for Piketon and was the loser.

The Mustangs eight-hit attack included three home runs.

John Furniss stroked a four sacker in the second with Ray Mowery on base. Tom Hamman came through with a solo homer in the third and Gary Liff duplicated Hamman's blast in the fourth.

TICKET SALES — Robert Wilson (left), Kiwanis Horse Show treasurer, and Tom Bennett, general chairman for the show, are pushing ticket sales for the annual charity event sponsored each year by the Kiwanis Club in cooperation with the Pickaway Saddle and Bridle Club. The event is scheduled this weekend.

Horses To Start Arriving for Kiwanis Show

Horses for the Kiwanis Charity Show will begin arriving at the Fairgrounds on Friday for activities slated Saturday and Sunday.

However, many horses are in evidence already as members of Circleville Kiwanis wearing white lapel pins in the shape of a horse's head are making a drive for ticket sales.

The man in the ring with the judges this weekend will, as in the past years, be Ralph Starkey. Judges secured for the show are James R. Shaw of Columbus for the Hunter and Jumper Division; Claude Alexander of Belev Creek, North Carolina, all other classes except western; Lee Tracy, Mt. Sterling, western classes.

Mrs. J. A. Ankrom is show secretary. She will be assisted in the secretary's office by Mrs. F. P. Dunlap, Diana and Debbie Ankrom, Sue Pike and Barbara Cummins.

Chuck Williamson of Leesburg, new to the local show, but with many years of experience in that area, will be the announcer.

Claire Peters of Delaware has agreed to serve as the farrier this year.

Organ music will be provided by Louise Snapp.

Allen Ankrom is paddock steward. He will be assisted by Dr. F. P. Dunlap who is also the show veterinarian.

Serving as the show steward will be Sterling Poling, a member of the Board of Trustees of the Tri-State Horse Shows Assn. The local event is a member show.

Mrs. Sterling Poling is in charge of ribbons and trophies.

Robert Wilson is the show treasurer. Harold Hoffman is chairman of the food concession. Other members of the executive committee who will be assisting chairman Bennett are Susan LeValley and Marvin Reichelderfer.

Spring Sports Spectacle Awaited

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The annual high school spring sports spectacle comes up this week-end with championships at stake in track and field, baseball, tennis and golf.

The four-day extravaganza gets underway Friday with semi-final activity in baseball, tennis and golf.

An estimated 700 athletes will vie for honors in the 15-event track meet Saturday at Ohio Stadium.

New champions are assured in both tennis and baseball but defending titlists get a crack at another crown in golf and track.

Cleveland Glenview, the Class AA king in track last year, is a threat again but city rival East Tech is the choice to cop the large school honors.

East Tech, winner of a record 13 state track titles, gained nine qualifying spots in last week's regionals, plus the Scarabs' 880 and mile relay teams.

Glenview qualified seven individuals plus its 880-relay team and should be in contention. Batavia, runnerup in Class A the last two years, is a strong favorite to take it all, qualifying six individuals and its mile relay team. Batavia also relies on Don Ogletree, the 440 winner a year ago and a threat in the long jump.

Other A champs returning include Dale Walker of Bellbrook, the state recordholder in the high jump with a 6-foot-5 performance and Tom Spitzer of Genoa in the shot while AA victor Solomon Espie of Columbus East is back in the 100.

According to Ohio Track and Field, Walker high jumped 6-8 in the Dayton regional, one of the top Class A efforts of the season.

Another challenger in AA is Dayton Dunbar with seven individuals and its mile relay team. Dunbar finished second last year and won titles in 1963 and '64.

In golf, medalist Robert (Yank) Heister of Ravenna returns as do such standouts as Phil Alkire of Washington Court House, Tom Norris of Findlay and Ralph Colla of Youngstown Cardinal Mooney. Upper Arlington's strong links team could repeat its 1965 pennant.

Tennis competition appears wide open with last year's singles king, Chuck Hawley of Cincinnati Princeton and Upper Arlington's doubles duo all gone.

In baseball, Kettering Fairmont West opposes Toledo Waite and West Holmes goes against Tallmadge in a pair of 1:30 p.m. games Friday.

The Class A contests at 10 a.m. pit Deshler against North-western (Wayne) and Lucasville Valley against Carlisle.

Deshler lost in quarter-final action last year while Lucasville bowed in the finale to Versailles, the champion. The defending king in AA, Shaker Heights, did not make it back. Here are the current state high school track and field meet records for Class AA and A:

100 - yard dash: Class AA—Jesse Owens, Cleveland East Tech, :09.6 in 1933; Class A—Stewart Wood, Terrace Park, 1940; Harold Wright, Germantown, 1952; Jim Bell, Cincinnati DePorres, 1956, and Roy Frazier, Warren Market, 1964, :09.9.

220 - yard dash: AA—Jesse Owens, Cleveland East Tech, 20.8 in 1933; A—Harold Wright, Germantown, 21.3 in 1952.

440 - yard dash: AA—Dave Mills, Lakewood, 46.4 in 1958; A—Harlan Howells, Mentor, 49.8 in 1934.

880-yard run: AA—Rick Poole, Dayton Jefferson, 1:55.7 in 1964; A—Duane Stewart, Ashtabula Edgewood, 1:59.1 in 1954.

Mile run: AA—Tom Schoemig, Amherst Steele, 4:18.1 in 1965; A—Jonathan Jones, South Charleston Southeastern, 4:28.3 in 1965.

120-yard high hurdles: AA—Clint Jones, Cleveland Latin, 13.9 in 1963; A—Mike Thomas, Fairport Harbor, 14.3 in 1965.

180 - yard low hurdles: AA—Paul Warfield, Warren Harding, 18.9 in 1960; A—Mike Kleinhans, Solon, 19.1 in 1956.

880-yard relay: AA—Cleveland Glenview, 1:28.5 in 1963; A—Columbiana, 1:31.7 in 1937.

Mile relay: AA—Cleveland East Tech, 3:20.4 in 1965; A—Kenia Woodrow Wilson, 3:29.7 in 1956.

High jump: AA—Stanley Albright, Cleveland Glenview, 6-6 1/2 in 1965; A—Dale Walker, Bellbrook, 6-5 in 1965.

Long jump: AA—Jesse Owens, Cleveland East Tech, 24-3/4 in 1933; A—John Saunders, Glendale, 22-6 in 1938.

Pole vault: AA—John Linta, Mansfield Malabar, 14 - 5 1/2 in 1964; A—Rick Steele, Braceville, 13-1 in 1965.

Shot put: AA—Dave Foley, Cincinnati Roger Bacon, 61-8/4 in 1965; A—Joe Morgan, Mariemont, 56-11/4 in 1930.

Discus: AA—Martin Eisner, Cleveland Heights, 177-11 in 1963; A—Ken Scarbrough, McDonald, 84-2 1/2 in 1956.

500 Classic Rookies Seek To Crack Winner Circle

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Seven rookie drivers — considered veterans outside Indianapolis — will crack the big time in the 500-mile classic May 30.

"You're nobody until you've run this joint," said Mel Kenyon of Davenport, Iowa. "It really makes you a somebody."

The last time a rookie hit the winner's circle at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway was 1927 when George Souders of Lafayette, Ind., piloted a Duesenberg at 97-plus miles per hour.

Two first-timers this season, Graham Hill of London and Jackie Stewart of Dunbarton, Scotland, are leading drivers on the World Grand Prix circuit.

Besides these and Kenyon, the rookies are Gary Congdon, Garden Grove, Calif.; Cale Yarborough, Charlotte, N.C.; Carl Williams, Kansas City, Mo., and Larry Dickson, Marietta, Ohio.

Stewart, 26, is the hottest driver on the international circuit. Last Sunday he won the season's first Grand Prix race at Monaco and during the first three months of 1966 he won four of eight events to capture the Tasman Championship to Australia and New Zealand.

Stewart, who drives a Lola-Ford, lives 100 miles from Scot Jimmy Clark, who captured the 1965 world road racing crown and is the defending champion at Indianapolis.

Hill, 36, earned the Grand Prix title in 1962 and since has placed second three straight years. The veteran, who started as a mechanic and race driver, also will pilot a Lola-Ford in the 500.

Kenyon was burned badly and lost his left hand in a crash at Langhorne, Pa., last June. He missed the rest of the season, but this year his qualification speed of 158.55 m.p.h. put him in the sixth of 11 starting rows.

Kenyon feels the only way his Gerhard-Offenhauser can win at Indianapolis is "to try to outlast the Fords." Next to Kenyon will be Congdon in a Huffaker-Offenhauser.

Williams spun his Gerhard-Ford three times before he finally qualified the car last Saturday. He was unhurt.

Yarborough is better known on the stock car circuit where he was runner-up last February in the Daytona 500. He drove his Voldsted-Ford to a four-lap qualifying average of 159.794 m.p.h. at Indianapolis.

Dickson was the last to make this year's 500 field. He did it with his Halibrand-Ford in the final hour last Sunday.

The Speedway's regular rookie crop has produced several stars—including this year's pole position winner, Mario Andretti of Nazareth, Pa.

Andretti was Rookie of the Year last May for a third place in the 500 and he finished the season as the U.S. Auto Club national champion.

At Indianapolis this month, he has been the pace-setter, pushing his Brabham-Brawn-Ford to the official Speedway records of 165.899 m.p.h. for four laps and 166.328 for one lap.

His car refashioner, Clint Brawner of Phoenix, Ariz., was honored Tuesday night as the top mechanic at Indianapolis.

Jimmy Clark, who will start next to Andretti in the front row, placed second his first year in 1963 and last year won the 500 laurels easily.

Fairly Finds Range, Helps Dodgers Win

4 Homers in Last 5 Games Put Skids on Slump

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Mr. Clutch has shifted gears again and the Los Angeles Dodgers are driving.

Ron Fairly, the Dodgers' un-sung delivery man rapped an eighth inning home run Tuesday night that made the difference in a 3-2 decision over Philadelphia, the fifth victory in the last six games for the world champions.

Fairly has hit four of his five 1966 homers in his last five games, helping the Dodgers stay within range of first-place San Francisco in the National League race.

Three weeks ago, however, the versatile red-head was struggling to brake a batting skid while the Dodgers, after dropping three straight to the Giants, were a standstill.

Fairly, a .270 lifetime hitter, had gone 4-for-36 and was hitting a miserable .203.

Since then, he's rolled at a .460 clip, lifting his average to .290, and driven in 11 runs for a team-leading total of 20. The 27-year-old outfielder paced the club with 70 RBIs last season and hit a solid .274.

Tuesday night's homer sent LA in front 3-1 but turned out to be the winning blow when the Phils scored in the ninth against Ron Perranoski. Perranoski, who came on for winner Don Sutton in the eighth, had not allowed a run in his previous 11 appearances.

Elsewhere, the Giants whipped Pittsburgh 5-2, Cincinnati blasted Atlanta 8-2, Houston beat New York 5-3 and Chicago blanked St. Louis 2-0.

Cleveland and Detroit split an American League double-header, the Tigers taking the first game 7-6 and the Indians the nightcap 2-0, while Baltimore trimmed Chicago 6-4. California stopped New York 4-2, Boston buried Minnesota 11-2 and Washington edged Kansas City 2-1.

A seventh-inning single by pitcher Gaylord Perry touched off the Giants' winning three-run rally against Pittsburgh. Tom Haller singled in the first run, Willie Mays delivered the second with a sacrifice fly and Willie McCovey capped the rally with his fifth homer. Mays' RBI was his first since May 13.

The Reds struck for seven runs in the sixth inning and put away Atlanta behind the six-hit pitching of winner Joey Jay, 5-2, and Bill McCool.

Tommy Helms, who cracked four hits for the night, triggered the big inning with a single and finished it off with a run-scoring single. Don Pavletich singled in two runs and John Edwards doubled across two more as the Reds sent 11 men to the plate and collected half of their 16 hits in the sixth.

The Astros scored four runs in the first inning — three on Jim Gentile's bases-loaded double — and held off the Mets on Claude Raymond's one-hit relief pitching over the last 5 1/3 innings. Rusty Staub knocked in the other Houston runs with a double and single.

Glenn Beckert doubled in the sixth inning at St. Louis, and scored on Ernie Banks' sacrifice fly, then drove in the Cubs' second run with a seventh-inning single.

Ted Abernathy bailed Bill Hands out of a ninth-inning jam, preserving the rookie's fourth victory.

The Reds struck for seven runs in the sixth inning and put away Atlanta behind the six-hit pitching of winner Joey Jay, 5-2, and Bill McCool.

Tommy Helms, who cracked four hits for the night, triggered the big inning with a single and finished it off with a run-scoring single. Don Pavletich singled in two runs and John Edwards doubled across two more as the Reds sent 11 men to the plate and collected half of their 16 hits in the sixth.

The Astros scored four runs in the first inning — three on Jim Gentile's bases-loaded double — and held off the Mets on Claude Raymond's one-hit relief pitching over the last 5 1/3 innings. Rusty Staub knocked in the other Houston runs with a double and single.

Glenn Beckert doubled in the sixth inning at St. Louis, and scored on Ernie Banks' sacrifice fly, then drove in the Cubs' second run with a seventh-inning single.

Ted Abernathy bailed Bill Hands out of a ninth-inning jam, preserving the rookie's fourth victory.

500 Classic Rookies Seek To Crack Winner Circle

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Seven rookie drivers — considered veterans outside Indianapolis — will crack the big time in the 500-mile classic May 30.

"You're nobody until you've run this joint," said Mel Kenyon of Davenport, Iowa. "It really makes you a somebody."

The last time a rookie hit the winner's circle at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway was 1927 when George Souders of Lafayette, Ind., piloted a Duesenberg at 97-plus miles per hour.

Two first-timers this season, Graham Hill of London and Jackie Stewart of Dunbarton, Scotland, are leading drivers on the World Grand Prix circuit.

Besides these and Kenyon, the rookies are Gary Congdon, Garden Grove, Calif.; Cale Yarborough, Charlotte, N.C.; Carl Williams, Kansas City, Mo., and Larry Dickson, Marietta, Ohio.

Stewart, 26, is the hottest driver on the international circuit. Last Sunday he won the season's first Grand Prix race at Monaco and during the first three months of 1966 he won four of eight events to capture the Tasman Championship to Australia and New Zealand.

Stewart, who drives a Lola Ford, lives 100 miles from Scot Jim Clark, who captured the 1965 world road racing crown and is the defending champion at Indianapolis.

Hill, 36, earned the Grand Prix title in 1962 and since has placed second three straight years. The veteran, who started as a mechanic and race lane driver, also will pilot a Lola Ford in the 500.

Kenyon was burned badly and lost his left hand in a crash at Langhorne, Pa., last June. He missed the rest of the season, but this year his qualification speed of 158.555 m.p.h. put him in the sixth of 11 starting rows.

Kenyon feels the only way his Gerhard-Offenhauser can win at Indianapolis is "to try to outlast the Fords." Next to Kenyon will be Congdon in a Hufaker-Offenhauser.

Williams spun his Gerhard-Ford three times before he finally qualified the car last Saturday. He was unhurt.

Yarborough is better known on the stock car circuit where he was runner-up last February in the Daytona 500. He drove his Voldstedt-Ford to a four-lap qualifying average of 159.794 m.p.h. at Indianapolis.

Dickson was the last to make this year's 500 field. He did it with his Halibrand-Ford in the final hour last Sunday.

The Speedway's regular rookie crop has produced several stars—including this year's pole position winner, Mario Andretti of Nazareth, Pa.

Andretti was Rookie of the Year last May for a third place in the 500 and he finished the season as the U.S. Auto Club national champion.

At Indianapolis this month, he has been the pace-setter, pushing his Brabham-Brawn-Ford to the official Speedway records of 165.899 m.p.h. for four laps and 166.328 for one lap.

His car refashioner, Clint Brawner of Phoenix, Ariz., was honored Tuesday night as the top mechanic at Indianapolis.

Jimmy Clark, who will start next to Andretti in the front row, placed second his first year in 1963 and last year won the 500 laurels easily.

Dirksen Asks for More Data on Viet Conflict

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen has given President Johnson a firm notice that Congress wants more answers to what's happening in Viet Nam.

After hobnobbing into the Senate on crutches Tuesday — his first appearance there since he broke a thigh bone in a fall May 10 — Dirksen told a news conference he had discussed Viet Nam with the President when Johnson visited him at Walter Reed Army Hospital.

The Illinois Republican said during "a reasonably lengthy talk" with Johnson he proposed a bipartisan White House briefing for congressional leaders. The President promised to take the idea under advisement, Dirksen reported.

Dirksen's prodding — coming as it does from an opposition party senator who has backed the administration's Southeast Asia action — may well produce a briefing at which Johnson would answer some plugging questions about political stability and military progress in South Viet Nam.

At the White House deputy press secretary Robert H. Fleming said he had no comment on Dirksen's proposal.

But the mere fact that the GOP leader disclosed he had suggested it personally to Johnson indicates Dirksen believes congressional leaders need to have more background information to cope with the deterioration in popular support of the war effort.

Johnson has not met with the congressional leaders for several months.

In other developments Tuesday:

Secretary of State Dean Rusk reaffirmed the U.S. desire to negotiate peace in Viet Nam and said this country shall continue its "far-reaching, persistent efforts to bring the other side to the peace table."

United Nations Secretary-General U Thant said military operations in Viet Nam should be scaled down in an attempt to initiate peace discussions among the major powers including Red China. The war in South Viet Nam, he said, can no longer

Americans must stop their inhuman actions."

A display of progovernment sympathy came in Quang Tri, where 300 demonstrators cheered appeals to march against the rebels in Hue, 32 miles to the south.

Buddhist-led struggle committees still manned barricades in Hue despite a crack in the anti-government front with the reported defection of Brig. Gen. Pham Xuan Nuan from the rebel cause. Nuan is commander of the mutinous 1st Vietnamese Division, military backbone in the resistance in Hue.

Nuan cabled a pledge of support to Ky but it was still unclear whether he spoke for the several thousand troops in his command. Some reports said the soldiers were changing sides, but the Buddhist-controlled Hue radio broadcast new denunciations of the government.

Dirksen Asks for More Data on Viet Conflict

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen has given President Johnson a firm notice that Congress wants more answers to what's happening in Viet Nam.

— United Nations Secretary-General U Thant said military operations in Viet Nam should be scaled down in an attempt to initiate peace discussions among the major powers including Red China. The war in South Viet Nam, he said, can no longer be described as a "fight for democracy."

While he avoided any personal assessment of the situation in Viet Nam, a news conference, Dirksen said that opinion polls indicated a downward shift in public support for Johnson's policies there.

He said he has the feeling the majority of the people are confused and frustrated by the seeming instability of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government. Dirksen added that they need more information about the situation in Saigon.
